City Housing Code repealed by 216 votes

When the newly-organized City Council sits down Monday, it will find itself where it was about 16 months ago: in need of an improved housing code.

The trend set itself early in last night's returns on the proposed repeal for the City Housing Code, with only two precincts opposing the action.

Final unofficial totals passing the repeal effort were 1,480 to 1,264.

Of the total 3,210 which participated in the election, 466 voters did not record a decision on the referendum.

The 216-vote difference represents a little less than eight per cent of the total vote on the issue.

The passage of the repeal and defeat of housing code puts futures of the Parkridge Urban Renewal project and the proposed Senior Citizens' Housing in jeopardy since an updated code is a requirement of a Community Workable Program, which must be maintained annually in order to qualify for federal-assistance improvement programs.

The Urban Renewal program is under way in a southside residential neighborhood, but its future beyond the present project limits will be in jeopardy if existing housing standards aren't improved before its completion.

The failure of the city to modernize its code would also leave a proposed 100-unit senior citizen high rise complex, proposed for development with federal assistance, on the drawing board.

The election of housing code opponent Richard L. Boatwright to the council possibly can be interpreted as an asset for the discussion and preparation of a compromise code designed to meet federal regulations without frightening the citizenry.

Boatwright was a frequent spokesman for code opponents before the council and emphasized in his campaigning that he favored a code, but was opposed to the one which had been adopted by the city council on Jan. 20. The 1,414 votes he received as a candidate and the 1,480 votes supporting the repeal apparently represented a movement by opposition to the code.

Both Dr. Richard N. Robb and John N. Kirkendall, also elected to the council yesterday, were proponents for the code and newcomers Kirkendall and Boatwright will join the remains of a council which voted 5-2 to adopt it. Councilman Curtis D. Bassett and now-departed Mayor Pro-tem Vaughn E. Filsinger had both acted in mid-January to oppose adoption of the code although Filsinger had since changed his stand after the council had acted to clarify its position.

Filsinger and Mayor John H. Burton — both recent proponents of the code — didn't seek re-election yesterday and will officially be stepping down from the council next week.

Robb, Kirkendall, Boatwright elected

Of The Press Staff

A moderate turnout of 3,210 citizens yesterday, re-electing in the city yesterday, the polls in the city yesterday, re-electing Councilman Richard N. Robb and newcomers John N. Kirkendall and Richard L. Boatwright from a field of eight.

They also voted to repeal the City Housing Code—1,480 to 1,264.

Robb, a veteran of one term on the council, topped all candidates, receiving 1,604 votes. Kirkendall, an attorney, got 1,547 and Boatwright, a native of the city and an opponent of the housing code, had 1,414.

Both Robb and Kirkendall were proponents of the code, which citizens nevertheless defeated by 216 votes.

The unofficial total of 3,210 voters represents about 39 per cent of the registered total of 8,218.

Despite campaigning by the eight candidates and supporters and opponents of the housing code, the moderate turnout wasn't surprising. The election fell on the first day of school spring vacation and many educators and parents may have departed for vacations over the weekend without voting by absentee ballot.

George D. Goodman, chairman of the Human Relations Commission, making his first bid for an elective office, finished fourth with 1,264 votes. Perennial conservative candidate John E. Freer was a distant fifth at 621.

The housing code issue, which proposed the repeal of the 22-page ordinance adopted by the City Council in mid-January, passed handily in every precinct but two, scuttling efforts by the council and proponents to retain it. The council said the code was passed for the protection of property values and to satisfy requirements for several federal-assistance improvement programs.

Other candidates and their vote totals in the order of finish were former sheriff Lewis, Jr. (572), R. Donn Newhouse (493) and housewife-businesswoman Mrs. Geraldine Ann Beaugrand (438).

Lewis ran in November for sheriff on the New Politics Party ticket, while Newhouse is the son of former City Council candidate Mrs. Mary Newhouse. Mrs. Beaugrand was making her first bid for an elective office.

Incumbent Constable Clayton J. Hopp, running unopposed, received 1,642 votes.

Returns began coming in to the office of City Clerk Elizabeth E. Fenker about 8:50 p.m., after the polls had closed at 8. The counting was completed by 9:30 p.m., with all but absentee ballots cast on machines.

Ironically, Robb claimed the high total in only one precinct — tiny Ward Three, Precinct One — although he had second high totals in three of the eight precincts and never finished lower than fourth in any one.

Kirkendall, meanwhile, had high totals in two large precincts, Ward Two, Precinct Two and Ward Three, Precinct Two.

Boatwright, meanwhile, had high totals in three precincts large ones.

Goodman, a Negro, scored high totals in both precincts of predominantly Negro Ward One.

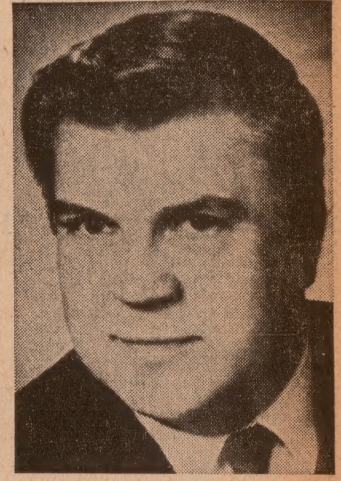

Lewis, also a Negro, ran strongly in Ward One — finishing second only to Goodman but proceeded to claim only 128 votes in the remainder of the city.

'Politicking' seen
In mayor selection

The results of yesterday's election will be canvassed Friday and the new City Council will convene in an organizational session on Monday.

Considerable "politicking" is expected to transpire between now and the time councilmen act to replace departing Mayor John H. Burton.

Incumbent Councilman Timothy J. Dyer, in his second term and a former Mayor Pro-tem, and on a predominantly inexperienced council, is expected to make a strong bid to succeed Burton.

The council, after swearing in councilmen on Monday, will elect a mayor and mayor pro-tem. Burton and Councilman Vaughn E. Filsinger, the current mayor pro-tem did not seek re-election to the council.

Dyer and Samuel R. Bass will be the most experienced hands on the new council. Both are entering their fourth year in office.

Councilmen Jeffrey V. Brookshire and Curtis D. Bassett will be joined by re-elected Councilman Richard N. Robb and newcomers John N. Kirkendall and Richard L. Boatwright.

Brookshire and Bassett are both entering the second year of their first terms while Robb will be beginning his second term.

Dyer, 31, the principal of Adlai Stevenson Junior High School in Westland reportedly was interested in the mayor post last year before Burton revealed his desire to be re-elected. He is an Ypsilanti High School and Eastern Michigan University graduate and was a teacher and assistant principal in Wayne before accepting his present position in Westland.

Bass, 39, a Negro, is an Ypsilanti High School graduate and could be a compromise choice for mayor pro-tem.

Robb, who is also an Eastern Michigan University regent, could be a candidate for one of the jobs.

All three candidates elected to the council from yesterday's ballot issued concise victory statements.

"I'm very pleased that the people of Ypsilanti decided to return me to my seat on the City Council," Robb said. "I hope I can fulfill their trust in me."

"I think it's a real challenge to serve the people of Ypsilanti," Boatwright, a native of the city and Dearborn Heights school administrator, said.

Kirkendall, an attorney and president of the Ypsilanti Jaycees, said, "I'd just like to say I'm very grateful for the support I've had. I think that the closeness on the code is indicative of some interest in a housing code making this an area which we definitely must spend some time in the immediate future."

Harris mayor:

Democrats win
All but one race
In Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR — A smashing Democratic Party performance at the polls here yesterday resulted in a victory for mayoral candidate Robert Harris with Democrats also winning four of five contests for councilmen.

The surprise showing gave the party a majority on city council here for the first time since the 1930's. Harris will be the first Democrat mayor since 1957.

Harris, a professor at the University of Michigan, out-pollied Republican Richard Balzhizer — 10,863 to 10,254. Balzhizer, also a U-M professor, was running a strong favorite in the traditional GOP territory.

At 38, the new mayor will be the youngest in the city's history. The campaign was his first for an elective office after having served on the Washtenaw Legal Aid Society and on the legal advisory council of the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing.

Also swept into office with Harris were Democrats H.C. Curry, R. G. Faber, N. D. Kazarinoff and H. L. Stadler, along with Republican Roy

Wesley as councilman. Results of the election will give the Democrats a 7-3 majority on the council, which is expected to prove an asset for the new mayor.

Curry won by the largest margin in Ward One defeating Adric (Gil) Gillespie, 2,201-1,303. Other close races besides that for mayor was the Ward Two councilman battle where Faber edged Ruth J. Hobbs, 1,394-1,338. Stadler also won by less than 100 votes in Ward Five defeating B. R. Connelly, the incumbent, 2,316-2,231.

Kazarinoff beat Republican Richard Emmons in Ward Three, 2,718-2,533, while Weber, the only Republican winner, defeated Doris Cadell, 2,614-2,111.

Difficult road awaits patient

Houston surgeon explains complicated transplant

DETROIT (AP)— Dr. Denton A. Cooley, the Houston surgeon who scored a medical first by keeping a patient alive on a manmade heart until a human heart could be found, said Monday his patient "will have a great deal of difficulty recovering."

But, said the 48-year-old surgeon, patient Haskell Karp "can recover."

Cooley was in Detroit Monday night to speak to the Wayne County Medical Society, just hours after giving his patient the heart of Mrs. Barbara Ewan, a 40-year-old Massachusetts widow who was flown to Houston for the transplant.

The donor, Cooley said, had been medically dead for 48 hours.

"She had complete brain damage and had no reflexes whatever," Cooley said. "She had been supported by extraordinary means."

Cooley said that after her flight to Houston, Mrs. Ewan suffered cardiac arrest eight blocks from St. Luke's Hospital, where Karp awaited a substitute for his plastic and fabric pump. The donor required heart massage to keep the organ functioning until the operation, Cooley said.

"I could have declared him dead or I could try something as drastic as this," Cooley said of his 19th heart transplant patient.

Karp, a 47-year-old printing estimator from Skokie, Ill., was at death's door last Friday, and no human donor was in sight, Cooley said.

Cooley was in the middle of a delicate open heart operation to try to repair a severely damaged heart chamber Karp was suffering. But the surgeon decided the damage was irreparable, so the decision to try the mechanical device was made, he said.

The mechanical pump, an eight-ounce contraption of bubbly plastic, fabric and stainless steel the size of two fists, could have lasted 10 days to a month, Cooley said, but "the patient would have been deteriorating all the time," Cooley said.

Though he acknowledged it is not perfect to the point of routine use, Cooley termed the mechanical heart a "breakthrough."

"The heart is nothing more than a pump," he said. "It is not the center of life. And we have shown that it can be replaced by a mechanical device."

The manmade heart itself cost $5,000 and may not be used again. But the console used to drive it, which costs $20,000, can be reused.

In annexation vote:

Pittsfield loses 600 acres

Ann Arbor was bigger by 600 acres and richer by $2.6 million in property valuation today and Pittsfield Township was the poorer as the result of annexation elections yesterday.

An Arbor, with an overpowering vote, scooped up three sections of Pittsfield land. They included the 171-acre "McCullen property," site of a proposed Sears and Roebuck shopping center, 108.7 acres in the Cunningham parcels in which no one lives and 324.5 acres in the Cunningham Edwards Bros. Publishing Co., a Volkswagen agency, other firms and a number of homes are located.

Pittsfield Township Treasurer Samuel A. Morgan said the annexation would mean a loss in the tax base of $2.6 million.

In Ann Arbor, the vote was 12,569 for to 2,835 against on the McMullen tract; 12,266 for to 2,988 against on the Cunningham tract, and 12,216 for to 3,049 against on the 324-acre tract.

Morgan said the Pittsfield vote in Precinct No. 1, which includes the affected areas, was only 301 against as compared to 235 for.

The shopping center property is located at the intersection of State and Waters Rds. The 108 acres is between I-94 and Ellsworth Rd. and has been signed up for a residential development. The 324 acres stretches along both sides of State Rd.

Superior seeking federal park funds

Superior Township today was moving ahead in its plans to improve the southern part of the township.

The board last night voted to seek state and federal funds in developing a 15-acre park east of Harvest Lane and north of McIntosh Rd.

Members also invited county facilities.

Supervisor William A. Paineau wants something more than a "typical" park, but "facilities that are geared to the people's needs."

He suggested a child day care center and other facilities.

It was reported that area residents are suffering from below standard immunization, health, education and recreation.

The board approved the installation of a "temporary classroom" type of building by the Office of Economic Opportunity, granting temporary use of the land.

The request for the building was made by County Supervisor Floyd Taylor of Salem Township. He said there was a meeting of the OEO board today and that they would locate such a building there if given assurance by the township.

The township already has donated 5.6 acres in the Willow Village area as the site for a district courthouse. It has been accepted by the county and is located east of Danbury Greens and north of the Ypsilanti Township golf course.

It was reported that the Planning Commission ruled out a proposed 600-unit apartment complex at N.

State chairman

LANSING (AP) — William Gill, of the Union Bank and Trust Co., Grand Rapids, has been named state chairman of the May 21 Our Livelihood Day activities during Michigan week. The day will focus attention on the business, industry and agriculture which provide a livelihood for the people of Michigan.

Prospect and E. Clark Rds., because it did not offer enough recreation area.

Three proposals to develop the area, which would include multiple unit dwellings and offices, were referred to the Planning Commission for study. A total of 53.78 acres are involved with 19 acres proposed for commercial buildings.

Approval would call for a public hearing and a special election.

The board, in other actions: —Approved the pick-up of trash along the roads.

—Noted that sewer and water main bids are being sought in the "Michigan Contractor."

—Bought new tables for the Township Hall Auditorium, and.

—Approved a plaque for the recently donated Schoeter Park.

"I would have preferred a smaller one. He wants me to keep my job and help pay for it."

Electrical ordinance:

Court judgment sought

The Board of Supervisors will seek a court judgment to determine the validity of the county's electrical ordinance — adopted last November — and whether or not the county can enact such an ordinance.

This course of action has been recommended by Prosecuting Attorney William F. Delhey in response to the State Electrical Administrative Board's contention that county units of government lack the power to pass an electrical code.

The State Electrical Administrative Board stands to lose revenues gained by issuing electricians licenses and permits for electrical work if the county ordinance is upheld.

County officials have received indirect indication that the Washtenaw ordinance is valid from Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley. In a letter to the State Department of Licensing, Kelley stated that "it would seem" that county board of supervisors could enact such a code.

Under the county ordinance, 15 of the county's 20 townships plus the village of Dexter will be covered.

Exempted from the ordinance will be the county's four cities, the village of Manchester, and the townships of Ypsilanti, Augusta, Bridgewater, Salem, and Superior. These units all have their own electrical code.

The village of Chelsea is in the process of deciding whether to be included under the county ordinance or to enact its own electrical code.

Delhey was directed last week by the Board of Supervisor's Property Committee to seek a declaratory judgment on the Washtenaw ordinance from the county Circuit Court.

Saline property owners To get tree cut warning

SALINE — A citizen's demand to know why the city had cut down a tree in his neighborhood was received by the City Council last night.

Carl Carr of 208 E. Henry St. referred to a box elder which was removed from the margin at the corner of E. Henry and Davenport Sts.

The issue had been brought to the attention of the council in January by Wesley Exelby of 206 E. Henry St., on whose margin it had been cut.

Carr was in Florida at the time. He was told the tree was partially dead.

Allan A. Grossman, city attorney, read the ordinance which gives the city the authority to cut any undesirable tree listed in a group of species, including the box elder, if deemed necessary.

The council explained that a new maple tree would be planted in the near future to replace the removed tree. The council voted to rewrite the ordinance so that homeowners would receive advance information on the cutting of trees.

Grossman presented a new ordinance on garbage collection. The present ordinance was written in 1939 and deals only with garbage collection. Now the city is also collecting rubbish, and it wants limitations and other information relating to garbage pickup included in the ordinance, Grossman said.

He read the ordinance to the council, and certain changes were recommended. The attorney will make the necessary adjustments and the present the revision at the next council meeting.

Police Chief James Levleit stated that an arson seminar will be held in Virginia Beach, Va., in the very near future. He said he wants a Saline policeman to attend the event.

Twenty houses will be burned and an intensive study on methods used by arsonists will be demonstrated.

The council voted to send Patrolman Robert Russell to the meeting.

Jaycees' kidney Donations at 27

Twenty-seven Ypsilanti Jaycees and their wives have pledged to give their kidneys, upon death, to help save the lives of those in need of a transplant.

John R. Simpkins, chairman of the local program, said University of Michigan doctors report that there are 20 patients at the Medical Center in Ann Arbor who are candidates for a kidney transplant but that well-matched donations are not usually available.

In cooperation with the Michigan Jaycees and the Michigan Kidney Foundation, the Ypsilanti Jaycees are making a communitywide call for pledges to the nation's kidney bank.

U-M doctors estimated that such a bank could eventually save 200 lives a year.

Potential donors will be asked to send a card giving their written consent to the transplant, along with the signatures of two witnesses, to the state foundation.
Donors will carry another card which says in capital letters, "Attention! I Am a Kidney Donor." The card also says the next of kin have been notified and urges speed in any transplant.

Simpkins asked potential donors to call him at 483-0947.

City Housing Code Repealed, 1,480-1,264

although a housing code is expected to become an immediate item of business.

City Council first began to consider a new housing code 15 months ago, reasoning that it would be more practical to rewrite it in its entirety rather than make the necessary amendments to the existing ordinance. The initial proposal, drafted by Building Inspector Edgar Roper, was introduced to the council in January, 1968, but received considerable opposition — including that from Mayor Burton and the CITY Committee (Citizens for Improving Their Ypsilanti).

The council then acted to scrap the original draft and authorized City Manager John G. Cartwright to proceed writing a new proposal. The city manager, deciding to incorporate many of the features of a similar code in effect in Ann Arbor, presented his draft early this year, with the council proceeding to hold hearings and then adopting it, 5-2, on Jan.
20.

Filings, Bassett and CITY Committee — a small group of citizens apparently organized solely for the issue — opposed the code, with Bassett later explaining that he felt the ordinance had been railroaded through the council. Filings later moved to support the code after his appeal for more information to the public had been satisfied.

The CITY Committee, however, maintained its opposition claiming that the code would allow an invasion on the privacy of homeowners and that the cost for compliance would create a hardship throughout the community.

The CITY Committee then launched a referendum petition, which was successful in placing the issue's proposed repeal before the electorate. Boatwright and three others from a field of eight soon followed by announcing their candidacies with positions opposing the code, the fate of which would be decided on the same day as three seats for the council in a non-partisan runoff.

The referendum and the council seats were decided yesterday with the new council, to be organized Monday, slated to sit down and find itself with a few new faces and one oldtime problem.

Belleville Mayor hits 'Tax' hike

BELLEVILLE — Mayor Royce Smith today protested a 31 per cent increase in tax assessments for the city.

The increase was imposed by state and county boards of equalization meeting in Detroit yesterday.

Smith urged taxpayers to write the Legislature to call for revision of state tax laws.
"They don't have to raise taxes, they just raise the property valuation," he said.
"It's getting all out of reason."

The City Council met last night and opened up a bank account for the $64,000 in urban renewal funds granted the city.

In other action, the council sent to the Planning Commission a request by James Ackron to put up multiple dwellings on E. Columbia St.

Accreditation visit Plans set at Lincoln

Plans for an accreditation visit by North Central Association representatives next week were discussed at the Lincoln Board of Education meeting last night.

An opening dinner meeting will be held Tuesday at the Statler Hilton Hotel. On the following two days, the evaluators will be in the high school observing classes and facilities at the school.

A book has been prepared for the evaluators, which states the objectives of the school, has a staff roster and outlines some of the courses offered to students.

James Martin, principal of the high school, also spoke on graduation requirements.
Students are required to have 20 credits, 11½ of them required, in order to graduate.
It was decided that students who have not met the graduation requirements will not be able to participate in baccalaurate or commencement with their class.

Students who are in jeopardy of not graduating are notified in the spring.
This year there are two students that definitely will not graduate.

Martin said that it is anticipated that 54 of the 113 seniors graduating this year will go on to college. This
of the class and is well over the state average of 38 per cent.

He also reported that the drop-out percentage decreased last year to 4.7 per cent and is below the state average of 7-10 per cent.

Dr. David Wood, the district superintendent told the board members and other citizens present that the Washtenaw Intermediate School District has requested an additional half mill from the 10 local districts participating in the county's special education program. This is the first increase that the Intermediate School District has requested since it was established in 1959. It has been operating on state funds and the original half mill that taxpayers approved.

The Board did not take any action on the ½-mill request, since it will be placed on the ballot for citizens' approval in a June 9 election.

The Board voted to continue the summer reading program and speech for handicapped children program that they have operated in past summers. Both programs will be conducted for six weeks.

The summer reading program is designed to help students who have reading difficulties and make sure their reading level doesn't fall back during the summer. About 100 3rd, 4th and 5th graders are expected to attend the program.

The speech for handicapped children program is partially reimbursed by the state.
Twenty-six students are expected to take advantage of this program.

At the recommendation of Carl Shopbell, assistant superintendent, the board decided not to have a school census taken this year.

The board postponed developing a policy about distribution of printed material in Lincoln Schools until they had a chance to investigate the matter further. It was decided that a policy was needed because of recent problems with obscene material in the Milan School District.

Commission pick Showdown likely

A showdown over a seat on the city Civil Service Commission is expected at the City Council meeting tonight, with Mayor John H. Burton, just days away from leaving office, making a last stand effort to have a Negro appointed.

The mayor first revealed his intentions at last Monday's study session, explaining that he feels a Negro on the commission would encourage more Negroes to seek employment on the City Fire Department.

The 3-man commission — composed of one appointee representing the department, one representing the council and an at-large member selected by the other two — serves to test and recommend personnel for employment as firefighters. Of the 30 city firemen, one is Negro.

The appointment of veteran Commissioner Worden E. Geer, a local funeral home director, terminated Feb. 15.

Mayor Burton said last Monday that, despite Geer's long service as the council's representative, he would favor a Negro — Moses E. Bass, brother of Councilman Samuel R. Bass — be appointed to fill the role. He said the fire department has "token integration", with other qualified Negro candidates "reluctant to apply due to our apparent trend."

In other business tonight, the council is expected to consider action on a proposed resolution to establish franchising for cable television, to host a hearing on the proposed closing of Jeness St. and on the proposed rezoning of residential property in the 700-block of Towner St.

EMU speech slated By SCLC leader

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy will speak at a concert-lecture series being sponsored by the Eastern Michigan University Religious Affairs Council at 8 p.m. April 17 in Pease Auditorium.

Prior to becoming the successor to Martin Luther King, Jr., as president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, he was the chief financial and budgetary officer of the organization, and a close friend of King. He was also the first president and founder of the Conference.

Dr. Abernathy has continued to acquaint the world with the practice of non-violent direct action against discrimination since his rise to national prominence when he led, with King, the famous Montgomery, Ala. bus boycott of 1955-56.

The program is free and open to the public.

Guns stolen In separate Burglaries

Several guns were stolen in separate burglaries reported to State Police yesterday.

Donald Waldecker of 1565 Arthur St. said his house had been entered over the weekend and a Beretta 25-caliber, 9-shot automatic stolen.

Entry into the building was apparently gained by forcing a door. Police said a clock radio and $23 in change also was taken, along with two boxes of .22 caliber ammunition.

Herbert Chandler of 27487
Edward Rd., Romulus, told State Police that three weapons were stolen from a gun cabinet in the living room of his house.

Missing are a .22-caliber single shot bolt action rifle, a 12-gauge, double barrel shotgun and a .22-caliber semi-automatic rifle.

Daily mail turns up Interesting 'Potpourri'

An interesting letter was received in the State House of Representatives last week and caused some humorous concern before and after it was given to one lawmaker and opened.

Inside was a letter supporting public aid to private schools (Parochial) plus a printed instructional form entitled "The 1969 Educated (Parochial) Program, April 1-30; Suggestions for writing to your state representative."

The form told Parochial backers to pick out one of seven listed points "and weave them into your letter." It also listed six favorable questions to be raised.

This letter-writer followed the instructions to the "T"; they said to "Address your representative (as) Dear Rep. Jones; address the envelope to Rep. Thomas Jones, State Capitol, Lansing."

So the writer sent his or her plea to "Rep. Thomas Jones", of which there is none.

Yesterday's election produced several minor but interesting sidelights.

One was an unsigned letter to The Press from "A Very Concerned Democrat" complaining that a local party official's car bore a bumper sticker supporting "a 'known' Republican." We checked the car, the official and both political parties. The auto sported a sign for a candidate not considered a member of either party — and a Hubert Humphrey sticker.

Political ads backing several council candidates last week contained a host of names of people endorsing the candidate. The name of Incumbent Mayor Burton, a Democrat, appeared in ads backing John Kirkendall and Richard Robb, a Republican. Robb's ad also bore the endorsement of eight other former mayors.

The mailbag in recent days also turned up several other interesting tidbits:

One person sent a Letter to the Editor commending President Eisenhower and noting his passing. At the bottom of the letter the writer implored, some stern words for the University of Michigan which allowed memorial services for Dr. King but only an hour for services commemorating the crucifixion of our Lord, and "not so much as offering one moment of silence to another great leader." Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Another Letter to the Editor was received from a woman in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, who has started a "Beans for Congress" campaign, in light of recent pass hikes for U.S. senators and representatives.

She is asking citizens to "bombard Congress with beans and it may just do something about that whopping 42 per cent pay raise to which it recently treated itself." The drive came out of a remark by Sen. Dirksen who said "senators have to eat," and then implied beans and bacon were good enough for himself.

The protest is in the form of beans mailed in small bags to "Beans for Congress," in care of the Washington (D.C.) Post.

Labor report

Labor combines Determine trend Of union growth

By Victor Riesel
Press Special Writer

WASHINGTON — For years now, American presidents have been listening carefully to each word uttered by American labor's chief, the laconic George Meany. He uses words as though they were 19th-century silver dollars. You can get him into a lengthy dialogue only on early 20th-century vaudeville and latter-day Walter Reuther.

So if it's good enough for presidents, it's good enough for this labor correspondent. I cull every sentence; then the digging starts.

Recently Mr. Meany said, and it was ignored, that "... some of our unions are thinking in terms of labor conglomerates."

It may not sound it, but it's a revolutionary concept. If labor does conglomerate, and its 100-year-old unions merge into the new 40-year-old ones, and labor restructures itself — thither will be a new ball game in the collective bargaining leagues, as giant faces giant on the industrial front.

Labor's intellectuals are considering appropriate groupings of unions which will cut across a single product, a single location, a single corporation. In the past, these are the forces which shaped the character of unions. Now labor looks at the industrial conglomerates and is merger-happy itself.

Newest reports and research reveal that, while labor has not yet reached the Ling-Temco-Vought or Walter Kidde and Co. stage, it's swinging nonetheless. At this moment unions control, or influence directly, the investments of some $30 billion worth of pension funds.

For the most part, it is the union headquarters which collects, and then disperses welfare payments of some $4 billion annually, covering everything from maternity costs to free psychiatry and podiatry. Labor's central and local treasuries are estimated at $7 billion.

Thus labor has a friend at Chase-Manhattan — and at scores of other banks throughout the land. In some of these, unions deposit more than a billion dollars.

But it's not just the money which traces the quickening moves toward labor conglomerates by the leaders of some 20 million unionists.

Today, unnoticed by all except a few insiders, labor merger is the thing. This is the play among the planners. Just the other day, one Labor Department report disclosed that there are now 51,656 active unions in the U.S. Ten years ago, when the first of such reports was issued by the government, there were some 70,000 such active units. Thus, about 19,000 locals, and a few nationals and internationals, have been absorbed.

And, as the European intellectual loves to say, this is just a "new beginning."

In the recent past, I. W. Abel's United Steelworkers, which is so disturbed by Ling-Temco-Vought's move on Jones and Loughlin Steel, absorbed the militant Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. More recently, the derring-do Charles Luna merged his railway trainmen with the conductors and brakemen, the switchmen and the locomotive firemen and engineers. Soon he hopes to make the new outfit, the United Transportation Union, a massive labor conglomerate. With the type on the merger pact barely cold, he began pitching at bus and airline unions.

If Charles Luna pulls this off, he'll be able to negotiate out of real strength, for he and his colleagues will be able to decide the day the U.S. will stand still — or at least a good part of it.

There are other fronts. The Laborers' International Union has been concentrating on the government. This year, after considerable infighting in the courts, the Laborers absorbed the 22,000-member National Association of Post Office Mail Handlers, Watchmen, Messengers and Group Leaders.

At the same time, the Laborers are negotiating with the ancient Stone Cutters, the Brick and Clay Workers and the Granite Cutters International.

The Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks (BRAC) has absorbed the Transportation Communications Employees Union, a smaller outfit called the Railway Patrolmen's International Union, and the Federation of Business Machines Technicians and Engineers Assn., made up of field service employees of the National Cash Register Co.

And right now BRAC President C. L. Dennis is about to close a merger with the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Transport and General Workers Union.

And so it goes throughout the movement. Today, these are mini-conglomerates. Tomorrow, they'll be able to go eyeball to eyeball with those our predecessors called the captains of industry.

Comes the revolution, everybody will be a giant.

This Day In History

By the Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, April 8, the 98th day of 1969. There are 267 days left in the year. Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1513, the Spanish explorer, Ponce de Leon, landed in Florida, searching for the fountain of youth.

On this date: In 1826, Secretary of State Henry Clay fought a duel with Sen. John Randolph of Virginia. Neither man was injured. In 1945, the British were shelling the German port of Bremen.

Ten years ago — The South-East Asia Treaty Organization opened a meeting in Wellington.

Five years ago — The body of Gen. Douglas MacArthur was taken from New York to Washington to lie in state in the Capitol rotunda.

One year ago — President Lyndon B. Johnson announced he had received a message from North Vietnam on peace efforts. He said: "We shall be trying to work out promptly a time and place for talks."

Millage critic reiterates

TO THE EDITOR:

This is in reply to Judy Morefield's comments on my letter concerning the "frills" contemplated in the proposed new school buildings.

I am not confused in the slightest between capital and operational expenses for the schools, for, in the last analysis, it makes absolutely no difference to the taxpayer whether his tax money is used to pay off a bond issue for a new school or to pay teachers' salaries. There is no source of money for any public expenditure excepting the taxpayer: whether it comes from his left pocket or his right pocket is immaterial. No public body has any funds except what it seizes from the taxpayer — if the levied taxes are not paid, the taxpayer's property is seized for those taxes.

The planning committee consisting of parents, teachers and administrators have agreed about the school needs Judy Morefield says. Splendid — excepting one important segment was omitted: the taxpayer (the guy who has to pay for what the planning committee embarks upon).

It's true that a number of parents are also taxpayers, but there are a great many like myself with no children in the public school system but whose school taxes are levied just the same. Approximately 80 per cent of my taxes goes for school purposes, which I feel justifies, at least to some extent, my voice in how the money is spent.

Again, "desirable factors" in educational facilities are fine — if one can afford them. Under the present stringent financial circumstances the taxpayer is struggling with one must choose between "desirable" and what actually serves some educational purpose.

Marion E. Wells

'It's time to stop now ...'

TO THE EDITOR:

In regard to ABM, the safeguard system: let me encourage that the opposition to this proposal make itself known to Congressman Esch, who has already publicly stated his opposition to its deployment, and our Sen. Griffin.

There are many arguments against it, but the one I would like to voice is economic. Now, when even the government, let alone we "little folk", is worried about inflation, how can this government devote $8 to $70 billion to something whose only encouragers are Defense Secretary Laird and the military-industrial people who will get that money? They don't even say it can work, let alone will — and who is still going to get the 10 per cent surtax?

We are paying about $75 in state tax for many, many services — our educational systems, youth detention centers, jails, law enforcement, etc. that cry for more funds. Our federal tax is more than $900 ...

Somebody not only wants my money, but is getting it. I can't see where I, or my country, is profiting from it anymore. Let's start saying it's time to stop now, before we run out of time.

'We travel a two-way street'

TO THE EDITOR:

According to Webster's New World Dictionary, the definition of the word "communicate" is "to impart; transmit, to give (information, etc.), to give and receive information by talk, writing, etc."

I agree wholeheartedly with those who say, "there is little communication between the Willow Run Board of Education and the citizens". But, we cannot blame our school board members. Month after month they have public meetings at which they carry on business necessary to keep our schools functioning. Do you ever attend these meetings?

Concerning the millage votes, they have held morning, afternoon and evening coffee hours so you could have your questions answered. They also had meetings at each elementary school which were not well attended.

Their telephone numbers are as far away as your telephone directory. Have you called to obtain information you might want? Have you read the recent editions of "Our Schools" which is mailed to your home?

Do you still want to blame your school board? How can they communicate when there are so few to communicate to? It is a two-way street we travel. You have some responsibility in this.

Collier blocks U.S. entry Of German student radical

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
WASHINGTON — "Danny the Red" Cohn-Bendit, self-avowed anarchist student agitator, is spouting none of his incendiary harangues on U.S. college campuses.

ALLEN

Rep. Harold Collier (R-Ill.) has made certain of that.

The Midwest legislator did it by forcefully urging the State and Justice Departments to bar admission of the German-born firebrand, who incited and led last year's violent and destructive student riots in France.

The State Department informed Collier that Cohn-Bendit was ineligible to obtain a visa, but the law permitted the attorney general to "waive the grounds for denial." In a vigorous telegram to Atty. Gen. Mitchell, Collier insisted "no such waiver be granted in the light of this man's record and existing ban from France because of his role in the widespread riots there last year."

As a consequence of these strong protests, Collier has assurances "Danny the Red" is addressing no U.S. student audiences.

Collier also has sent sharply inquiring letters to various college authorities asking how-and why invitations were extended to the anarchistic student leader.

"Danny the Red", in applying for a U.S. visa, claimed he had formal requests to speak at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., the University of California at Berkeley and at the New York State University at Stony Brook. At the latter, a professor reputedly was arranging further speaking engagements at Cornell and other Ivy League colleges.

From Georgetown University sources, Rep. Collier ascertained that the invitation to "Danny the Red" was extended by a group of students in the Foreign Service School to address a so-called "Conference on the Atlantic Community."

In caustically denouncing the attempt to bring the turbulent German student trouble-maker to this country, Collier stressed there is no need to import such agitators.

"We have enough of the home-grown variety of anarchists engaged in civil disobedience and the seizure of buildings to which they have no right of possession without importing a man like Cohn-Bendit," said Collier. "It is hard to believe that any responsible official or agency of the federal government would approve this man's visa application in the light of his record and announced admission that he is an anarchist."

"I am seeking to determine whether any of the groups who are participating in the invitation to Cohn-Bendit are receiving funds from tax-exempt foundations or other public services for the promotion of these particular activities."

In his letters to Roger Heyns, former University of Michigan official who is chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley, and to the Rev. Edwin Quain, acting president of Georgetown University, Rep. Collier asked if the invitations to "Danny the Red" were from their colleges or were "extended by a student or group of students."

20 YEARS AGO

April 8, 1949 — Members of the Prospect Parent Teachers' Association were entertained by the Rev. Harvey Colburn recently at a school meeting. Mr. Colburn recalled for the group some of the interesting points in the development of Ypsilanti's East Side.

The settlement was first located near the present Ecorse Rd. and there was great excitement over the opening of the great Detroit-Chicago Turnpike Rd., which is now Michigan Avenue.

He related that in the need of water power the first dam was built on Forest Ave. in 1823. Wooded sections were sold to clear for farms. The first one was built between the present Prospect and River streets.

The Central Railroad of Michigan had a station at the Cross St. location and great piles of wood were kept for firing steam engines. The first train went through in 1838.

50 YEARS AGO

April 8, 1919 — Woman starred in the election in Ypsilanti.

Pesticide parley Set by Milliken

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William G. Milliken has asked Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel to call a conference of governors of states bordering Lakes Michigan and Superior to discuss pesticides in those waters.

In a telegram, Milliken asked Hickel to chair such a conference to discuss "a joint coordinated plans" for dealing with pesticides. Copies of the request went to Govs. Richard Ogilvie of Illinois; Edgar Whitcomb, Indiana; Harold Levander, Minnesota; and Warren Knowles of Wisconsin.

silanti Monday — in the voting and in the counting. The women held their own!

In the first ward Miss Edna Letand stayed at her post until nearly 3 a.m. counting ballots at peak efficiency.

Mesdames McCann, Wiard and Clizbe also showed no signs of weakening during the long hours. Men had previously conducted the tally.

The fourth ward had their votes counted first with the fifth ward a close second.

75 YEARS AGO

April, 1894 — The beauties of nature as well as works of art on our continent are fully shown in "America Photographed," an art portfolio now being issued locally.

The folio contains 20 photographic engravings of such places as Harper's Ferry, The Alamo, The Continental Divide and Mount Popocatepetl in Tlaxcala, Mexico.

Lunar Landing In color TV special May be ready

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Space officials say there is better than a 50-50 chance that the descent of two Apollo 10 astronauts toward the moon next month will be seen on home television in live color.

It all depends on whether the first color TV camera designed for a manned spaceship will be ready in time for Apollo 10s scheduled May 18 liftoff.

With two black-and-white TV cameras also aboard, Apollo 10 is expected to be the most televised flight yet. Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford, Apollo 10 commander, said, "I am pushing hard" to get the color TV camera aboard.

"If we do, you'll see lots of pictures, including some of the lunar module (LEM) undocking and starting the descent," he said.

Plans call for the LEM to approach within five miles of the lunar surface. A landing will not be attempted.

The camera—to be carried inside Apollo 10's three-man command ship—could also be used to show color pictures of earth from the vicinity of the moon and from various distances between earth and moon.

Stafford and Navy Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan are to uncouple the LEM from the command ship in moon orbit, then pilot the spidery craft on its descent.

Inside the command ship, Navy Cmdr. John W. Young could aim the color camera to show the departing LEM with the moon in the background about 70 miles below.

Equipped with a zoom lens, having a variable focal length, the camera could show the LEM at considerable distances from the command ship and give close-up views of the lunar surface, officials said.

"The color should be great—as good if not better than any standard color television seen," said Stanley Lebar, program manager for the Westinghouse Electric Corp., builder of the color camera.

Mexican prison escapee, Dykes Askew Simmons, 41, claims he didn't shoot three Mexicans, a crime for which he already has spent nearly 10 years behind bars. (AP Photo)

Escapee claims He's innocent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I can't think they'd send me back — I'm innocent," said Dykes Askew Simmons after his escape from a Mexican prison where he spent 10 years under sentence of death as a killer.

Simmons, who walked out of the Monterrey prison disguised as a woman, was driven across the Texas border in a friend's car and he flew to Los Angeles Monday from Harlingen with his lawyer, Dennis Frederickson of Beverly Hills.

"They may try to extradite me," said the 40-year-old former Ft. Worth, Tex., laborer. "I'm not running anywhere. After 10 years, I've got hot showers, clean sheets, rugs on the floor. No more adobe. I'm free."

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said there had been no word from Mexico on possible extradition proceedings.

Simmons had been held in Monterrey since Oct. 12, 1959, when he was arrested while on a vacation trip and accused of a fatally shooting three members of a dentist's family.

Convicted and sentenced to die by firing squad, Simmons continued to protest his innocence and ask for official U.S. aid to win his freedom.

A State Department spokesman said two years ago "We are quietly working through proper channels."

Convinced there was no hope of help from Washington, he said, he spread pancake makeup on his face Sunday, put a shawl on his head and climbed into a dress "padded in all the appropriate places."

Then, with about 400 women who had been visiting family members at the Nuevo Leon state prison at Monterrey, he walked out the gates which had closed him in since 1959.

The slain Mexicans were Hilda Perez Villagomez, 22, her sister Marta, 19, and her brother Manuel, 17. Dying of gunshot wounds, Hilda described the killer as a big light-haired American with one or two gold teeth, and driving a 1958 light blue car.

Simmons was darker haired, almost 35 pounds lighter and three inches shorter, had no gold teeth and drove a 1954 car of a different make. Identifying him in her hospital room Hilda said: "I am almost sure. May God forgive me if I made a mistake."

About 20 months after his conviction, a higher court ruled the trial court erred in accepting the young women's deathbed identification. The trial court reaffirmed the conviction and for a second time sentenced Simmons to death. Why this sentence was never carried out is not clear.

Tower gets bird's view Of fierce jungle fighting

SAIGON (AP) — Fierce fighting raged in bamboo jungles 40 miles northwest of Saigon Monday, and while it was going on a member of the U.S. Senate's Armed Services Committee flew overhead in a helicopter.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., watched American fighter-bombers, helicopter gunships and M48 tanks pound about 200 North Vietnamese entrenched in "spider" holes and other fighting positions covered by thick bamboo.

The senator's helicopter was not fired on, a U.S. spokesman said.

The battle raged for seven hours until dark "when the remaining enemy evaded and withdrew" the U.S. Command said.

Infantrymen from the U.S. 25th Division searched the battlefield and found the bodies of 33 North Vietnamese troops, 16 rifles and nine rocket-grenade launchers and machine guns.

Three men of the 25th

Division were killed and seven wounded.

"We'd been probing that area looking for spider holes and fighting positions," an officer said, "and we found them."

The American troops, riding M48 tanks and armored personnel carriers, encountered heavy rocket grenade and machinegun fire throughout the day. But spokesmen said none of the armored vehicles was knocked out.

The enemy troops were "really dug in," the American officer said. "They stayed to fight. Then what was left of them moved out under the cover of darkness."

The 43-year-old senator spent most of Monday afternoon with the 25th Division on the third day of his tour of Vietnam. He is scheduled to leave Wednesday.

Tower also visited the division's patrol base Mahone II, about 45 miles northwest of Saigon, the scene of heavy fighting in the opening days of the Viet Cong's spring offensive, which began Feb. 23.

Tower's helicopter also set down near the Boi Loi Woods where he inspected the controversial Sheridan tank.

The U.S. Command reported 15 enemy rocket and mortar attacks on allied bases during the night. Casualties and damage were reported light.

American artillery opened fire on North Vietnamese troops in the southern half of the demilitarized zone late Monday after an aerial observer spotted the soldiers in a bunker complex.

U.S., Peru avoid clash

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The United States and Peru have avoided a showdown for the time being, but major problems remain for both governments because their dispute still hangs fire.

For Peru the problems are economic-continued stagnation while hesitant foreign investors wait to see how the dispute is settled.

For the United States it is a matter of the perennial Latin American distrust of the big neighbor. While Washington has not applied economic sanctions, the threat remains, and Peruvian resentment against the "Yanquis" likely will grow and harden.

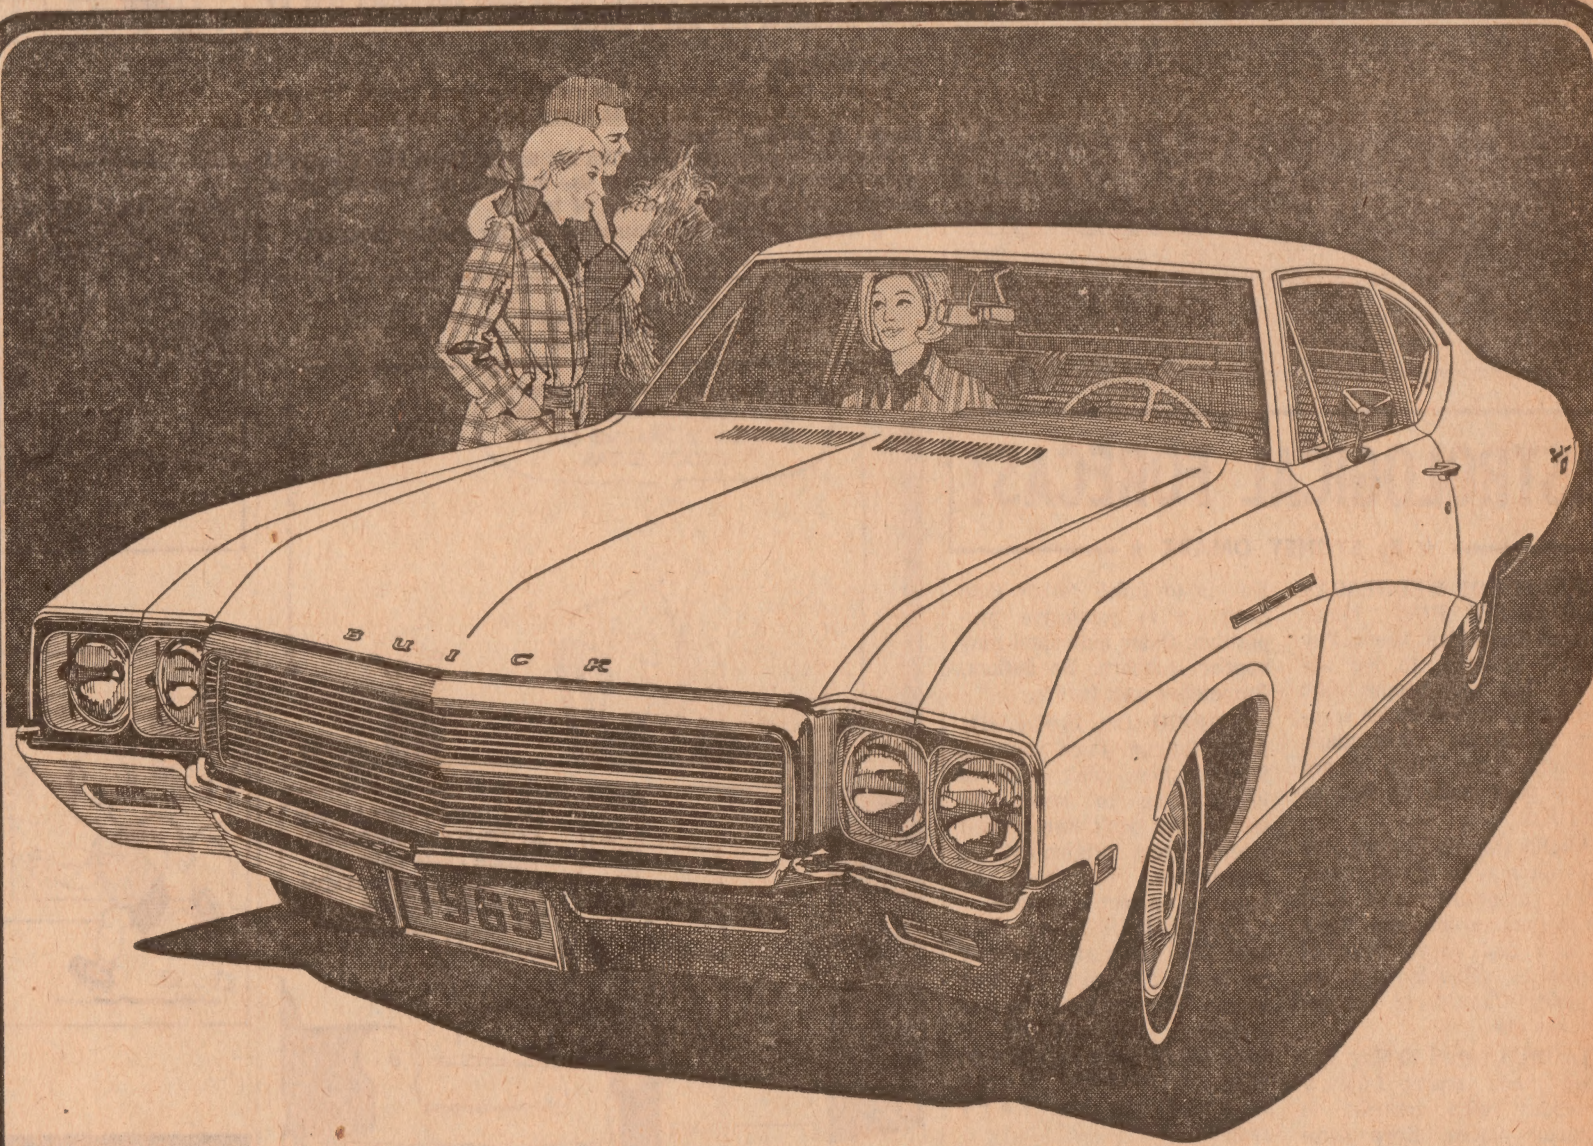

A showdown over the expropriation of the International Petroleum Co., a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, was deferred Monday when Washington announced IPC would start proceedings in Peru against the Lima government's claim for $690 million from the company.

A U.S. announcement said this procedure, together with current negotiations by special U.S. envoy John N. Irwin, constituted the "appropriate steps toward compensation" required by the Hickenlooper Amendment.

The economic sanctions thus were deferred pending the outcome of the IPC's appeal to Peru's Ministry of Energy and Mines. The ministry must rule on the case and leave time for a further appeal if necessary to President Juan Velasco by Aug. 6, six months from the day the huge IPC debt was alleged by Velasco.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

★ By SYDNEY OMARR ★

FORCAST FOR WEDNESDAY
GROOMING HINT: Lunar position emphasizes knees. Pay special attention to leg apparel. The way people walk and dance comes under scrutiny. Cultivate cheerfulness and optimism. Make others notice your smile as well as your legs.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Superior may be in foul mood. Don't compound error. Hold off in making demands. Take it slow and easy. Sense of humor is valuable ally. Be flexible. Change of assignment is due.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Good moon aspect today coincides with interest in faraway places. Keep communication lines open. You could get news containing valuable information. Give attention to details.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Money suggestions from friends may not be solid. Know this and check with experts. Some around you today are confused by facts, figures. Don't be rushed into investment.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Avoid one who attempts to tie up your assets. You have something of value which someone desires. Consult with family member. Patch up domestic difference. Then events turn in your favor.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Avoid confusion by finishing basic tasks. Don't chase rainbows. Get-rich-quick scheme lacks foundation. Improve relations with associates, co-workers. Stick to sensible diet.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Make financial plans for future vacation. Check with travel expert. You may be able to afford more than you anticipated. Genuine bargain is available.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Situation involving home, family demands attention.

Key is to finish rather than hang on to expensive proposition. Older individual may appear stubborn. Be patient. Remember past favors.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Avoid fatigue. Pace yourself. Some visitors don't seem to know when to leave. Be tactful, but don't lose needed sleep. Stress originality, independence. You may be knocking on door of success.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Affair of heart may go awry. Not wise to force issues. Do more listening than asserting. You can get at truth today. Base decisions on valid information. Some around you are very careless.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Steer clear of family disputes. You get what you need without argument. Know this and be gracious. Some around you merely have to let off steam. Be patient without being condescending.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Shakeup could occur in club, organization. You could gain as a result. Have facts ready. Be specific. Back up assertions. Many speak on your behalf.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Some of your desires may be costly. A bit of investigation enables you to get better price. Don't be afraid to bargain. Study GEMINI message. Social activity is accented. Be amiable.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY, you are attracted to the healing arts. You are a compassionate person. Many rely upon your judgment in time of crisis. Don't rush into legal action. Surprise due in that area. Wait and prepare.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A PLANE WAS ROARING through the air at 600 miles per hour when one motor conked, then a second, then a third, leaving only the fourth one functioning. That was the moment when the pilot stepped out of the cockpit, his parachute harnessed to his uniform, to reassure his passengers, "Not a thing to worry about, folks! I'm on my way down to seek help."

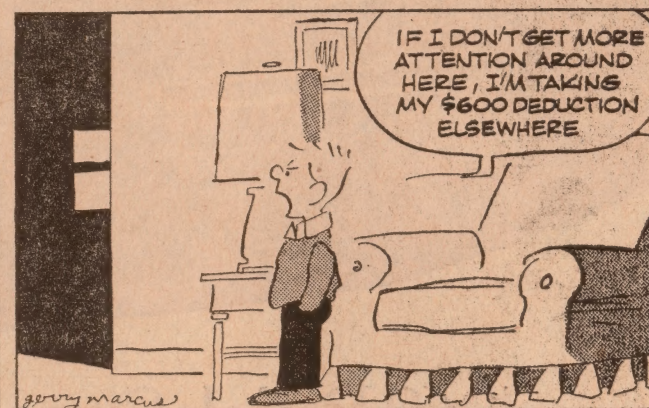

To the innumerable books detailing Napoleon's catastrophic defeat at Waterloo, David Howarth had just added another—and a very good and enjoyable one it is, too. Howarth himself admits, however, that his own favorite account of the historic drama is that of one small participating British infantryman who, on the morning after, remarked tersely, "I'll be hanged if I know anything about the matter. I was all day trodden in the mud and ridden over by every scoundrel who had a horse."

OVERHEARD:
 Woman on a sight-seeing bus returning from Mount Vernon: "Did you notice, my dear, that every room in the house is furnished in Early American?"
 Mayor to his city council: "I'm not saying those urban renewal people are putting the heat on us—but they've given our great old city three years to get out of town!"

DEAR ABBY:

Young mother is still Too much of a daughter

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS
 Dear Dr. Brothers: My husband and I were thrilled when our first child was born. In the hospital I couldn't see or hold my baby enough. But when we came home, I was upset to find myself depressed and irritated by the baby. My mother is staying with us and has taken things into hand, so it's not that I'm tired or overworked. I can't seem to get used to the idea that I'm a mother.—A.M.

Dear Mrs. M.: While a woman may decide that she is emotionally ready to have a child and eagerly awaits its birth, she may still be unprepared for the actual task of mothering her infant.

Although she may naturally feel protective and solicitous towards her baby, she has yet to learn how to care for the child and to make room for it in her life.

Mothers sometimes fail to realize the exhaustive demands a new baby can make upon their emotional and physical energy. They fail to anticipate the loss of freedom and added responsibility that parenthood brings. Some ambivalent feelings about the new arrival are natural but some women may experience more serious and confusing conflicts.

The young mother who, despite her marriage, has remained extremely close to her mother, may find herself unprepared and unwilling to accept the mothering role required of her after the birth of her own child. She may relinquish her maternal responsibilities to her own mother who is often only too willing to continue to play a dominant role in her daughter's life.

The young mother finds her desire to continue to be a compliant, submissive daughter to her own mother in conflict with the demands of her own infant. Consequently, unconsciously, she may resent her own child, seeing it as an unwelcome intrusion that threatens to weaken her ties to her own mother.

She is not emotionally free enough to give her child all the love and attention it requires since she herself remains an emotional child in need of the support of her mother.

Even if the young mother had considered herself emancipated from her mother's domination by her marriage, the increasing dependency caused by her pregnancy and new motherhood may renew old bonds, especially if the young husband is himself insecure or uninterested in the role of parent.

It may be that your mother's arrival and running of your household is making it difficult for you to attain the confidence and experience you need as a new mother. Prolonging her presence may compound any adjustment problems you may have to the new family member by putting you in the ambivalent role of both child and parent.

Try to build up friendships with young mothers your own age so that you are not completely dependent upon your mother for suggestions and guidance about child care. You might find it helpful to talk to your doctor about your feelings, if they continue to disturb you.

None of us are perfect. But to find out how honest you really are, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Joyce Brothers in care of The Press and ask for her test, "How Honest Are You?"

DR. BROTHERS:

Bachelor isn't ready To sooth 'crumpled petals'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
 DEAR ABBY: I am 28, a bachelor, and a college graduate. I recently returned to this town to head my late father's business. I have been decorated in combat and have seen my share of the world, and now I am ready to settle down for the right girl.

Finding a desirable mate among wet-nosed college coeds, divorcees, and town tramps is virtually impossible.

Nonetheless, there is one who has become rather special. We dated in high school. She was the local beauty queen and is still very attractive. However, she is divorced and has two children.

I could care for this woman, and the question of marriage has crossed my mind, but in my present business position I shudder at the thought of shackling myself with children who aren't mine, and a "second-hand Rose" with crumpled petals. S.O.S.

DEAR S.O.S.: Sounds to me as though the little lady has already had her share of headaches, so give her a break and look further for a mate. If you regard a divorcee as a "second-hand Rose with crumpled petals" and admit that you can't accept another man's children as your own, this woman is not for you.

DEAR ABBY: We have many children in our neighborhood who have B.B. guns. One 14-year-old started coming into my yard to shoot birds, and I saw him handling his gun in a very irresponsible manner. I called his mother and told her if her son was going to use a gun, he should go to the YMCA and take a course in the proper handling of firearms. She told me he knew how to handle a gun, yet I've seen him pumping his gun with the barrel pointed toward his head. I then told her that since I have children who are six and eight, whose playmates come over a lot, I didn't want her boy in my yard with his gun. One child had already suffered a chipped tooth from a shot in the mouth!

Well, the next time I saw the boy in my yard with his gun I called the police. Hot out of anger, but out of concern for his own safety as well as the safety of others, I didn't sign a complaint. I just told the officer to talk to him.

Now the boy's mother is furious with me. She said I should not have called the police, that I should have called her again, instead. Abby, I like this woman. If you say I'm wrong, I'll apologize. Mrs. H. Derby, Kas.

DEAR MRS. H.: No apologies are necessary. I think your neighbor should send you a dozen sunflowers.

DEAR ABBY: Well, gal, I must admit you've got it. My hubby reads your column before he even looks at the rest of the paper.

For years I've had a problem I couldn't seem to solve. You see, John is a swell guy, but he hates water like a cat does, and I just couldn't get him to take a bath even once a week. Well, one day, I said, "John, if you don't start taking a bath once a week I am going to consult Abby." Wham! He was in the tub like a flash.

So chalk up this woman as one of your biggest admirers. No name, please. John would have a fit. A Reader in Joliet, Ill.

YOUR HEALTH:

Trichinosis possibility Exists in uncooked pork

By DR. LESTER COLEMAN
 The health protection that is given to the American people by governmental agencies is frequently overlooked or unrecognized.

In conjunction with the United States Public Health Service many legal rulings prevent the distribution of infected meats, a source of trichinosis. This parasitic disease is caused by Trichinella Spiralis, a round worm that exists in infected meat and meat products containing pork that is inadequately cooked.

There now are legal methods by which the government can actually move into a pork sausage factory and shut it down if there is any suspicion that this disease is being carried by its products. Trichinosis occurs everywhere in the world except perhaps in the tropics where pigs are fed root vegetables. It occurs in the United States in more instances than it should and frequently is found in communities where a particular distributor has been selling meat infested with this parasite.

There are a few rules that can protect against this condition. The most important, of course, is that all pork and pork products must be thoroughly cooked to kill the worm in any of its stages. The next is to know the reliability of the shop that sells the meat.

Many married women find that when their children are grown and self-sufficient, they need closer contact with the activities in the community. It is unfortunate that here is such a vast potential in well-trained mothers that goes to waste because their part-time availability is not used. It is well known that private industry, hospitals, and governmental agencies need the power reserve of these women and have not been able to establish lines of communication that will reach them out.

A personal communication brought to my attention a remarkable organization named Catalyst which serves to bridge the gap between the accomplished women who want to work and the vast enterprises that need their talents. Catalyst is a particularly well chosen word which, taken from chemistry, means a substance which speeds up a reaction. This, on a social level, is exactly what Catalyst is doing. Located in New York City, Catalyst is bringing marked emotional support to many women of accomplishment whose personal egos need "boosters" during this important phase of their lives.

Speaking of your health: Children's hands seem to find open electrical sockets. Careful!

Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of The Press.

Penny-ballots questioned

By ELE and WALT DULANEY
 Dear Ele: I have been asked to run as my club's entry in a queen contest. It's a penny-a-vote contest for a good charity. That means the girls' friends will collect as much money as they can and the girl with the biggest donation wins the crown. I'm pleased they want me to run, yet I don't know what to think of the money business. The girl who won last year was nominated by a club with 20 members and they put in $225 through various money-making projects. Do you think it's asking too much of your friends to do this?—Dorothy.

Dear Dorothy: I have a strong personal prejudice towards penny-a-vote contests. In my days as a 'Y' staff member, I saw a number of girls' clubs racked by dissension because they were pushed to bring in dollars for club prestige. All concern for charity was buried in rivalry and often the girls who could least afford contributions felt the greatest pressure to win this dollar derby. Each girl hustled products, thereby incurring a number of return obligations. All in all, it adds up to a bad scene in my book, but discuss my negative comments with your fellow members. If they still want to go ahead, you might as well be the candidate.—Ele.

Dear Walt: Before I went with Sylvia, she was engaged to a boy named Edmond. When she bought her car, he loaned her $500. Now she says she has to see him at least once a week and "cooperate" because she hasn't paid back the money. I told her she doesn't have to do it all, but she just cries and won't talk about it. I don't have that much money and I hate to go in debt to borrow it. Is there anything I could say to scare Edmond about the illegality of what he's doing?—Jay.

Dear Jay: Sit down with Sylvia, help her straighten out her finances and establish how much she can afford to repay Edmond each week. Even if it is just $5 that will start her on the road to freedom. Go with her to see your predecessor. Give him the first payment and tell him all further contact will come by mail. Tell him there will be no more "cooperation" meetings and if he pushed for them, all payments will stop. Once he realizes it's settle for money or nothing, he'll stop bugging Sylvia.—Walt.

Whites Travel South

Mr. and Mrs. John T. White, following a Smoky Mountain wedding trip, are residing in Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom, who has lived at 420 N. Huron St. and is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University, is a physics teacher in Romulus. His mother is Mrs. John J. White of Fort Sumter, S. C.

The bride is the former Miss Ruth Anne Arps of Ann Arbor, the daughter of Mrs. Henry Arps of Saginaw. She is a medical records librarian in Ann Arbor, having been graduated by Lutheran West High School and Mercy College, both in Detroit.

For the wedding, which took place in Zion Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor, the Rev. Robert Kavashch of Detroit officiated.

For the ceremony, the bride wore an A-line full-length gown with an Empire waistline and a jewel neckline. The peau de soie gown had been made by the bride.

Her sister, Jean of Saginaw, was maid of honor and her brother, Richard of Baldwin, was best man.

Gwen Frostic, Nature artist To talk in area

Miss Gwen Frostic, artist and businesswoman who has built up a million-dollar business based on her enjoyment of doing blockprints of wildflowers, will speak in the area next Tuesday.

Miss Frostic, who has won national acclaim for her artistry on the nature topic, will be a guest speaker at a meeting of the Northville Historical Society on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Miss Frostic, who has turned her artistic talent into a million-dollar business despite a physical handicap, is the daughter of the late Frederick Frostic, former resident of Ann Arbor and long-time superintendent of Wyandotte schools. She is a 1923 graduate of what is now Eastern Michigan University.

Aside from painting treasured sketches of wildlife and authoring several books,

Miss Frostic is considered one of the nation's most astute businesswomen. Her painting on stationery, cards, place mats and napkins are sold in shops throughout the United States.

Her appearance in Northville is the only one planned in this area. The admission proceeds will be used by the society in its campaign to preserve its community's oldest building as a museum.

Pants suit Influences Handbags

NEW YORK (AP) — Fashion this spring is in the bag. And the bag in fashion is the shoulder bag, ranging from the strictly utilitarian type to evening versions that add glamor to the most formal occasion.

The shoulder bag takes center stage by virtue of the stellar role it plays in the pants-suit act, which continues to be a smash hit. The look goes from small and neat for city pants to large and luggary for sportswear.

Roomy shoulder satchels in suede take to kid or patent as trim. For after 5, the dressy pants suit calls for a small and elegant bag, the strap a delicate chain.

Designer Don Simonelli, who advocates the strong accessories approach, allowing the individual to create her own unique look, says: "Handbags with pants tend to look best when they are softly constructed and are of the shoulder bag variety. They should be soft, casual, modern."

The color story, says the National Handbag Association, is pale or patriotic, with red, white and blue in the spotlight. Also assuming importance as neutral complements for spring prints and textures are the lightest shades of pale, as well as gray and black.

The already popular safari takes on a new aspect in two or three tones — strongly contrasting colors like red and white, or shades of brown or luggage. Totes get added zest by teaming canvas with contrasts that may be leather, patent, or perhaps a hardware frame.

MRS. HAROLD L. INGLIS
(The former Miss Bonnie G. Peabody)

GM executive's Daughter marries

Miss Bonnie G. Peabody, daughter of the E. Tilson Peabodys, director of the General Motors Air Transport Section (GMATS), on Saturday became the bride of Harold L. Inglis of North Hampton, N. H.

The Peabodys live in Detroit and Rye, N. H. and Mr. Peabody heads the GMATS which is headquartered at Willow Run Airport.

The wedding of Miss Peabody and Mr. Inglis, whose parents live in Hampton Falls, N. H., took place in the Bethany Congregational Church in Rye, and the reception was in the Exeter Inn in Exeter, N. H.

After an Eastern wedding trip, the newlyweds will reside in Rye.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Albion College, while the bridegroom is a graduate of the Vesper George School.

Diet affects heart

By adopting a low-calorie, low cholesterol diet, a wife in a kitchen can be the key to a better chance for her family to avoid or delay the onset of heart attack, says the Michigan Heart Association.

The housewife who wants to help her family keep its collective hearts healthy should serve more fish, chicken, veal and turkey, and less of beef, lamb, pork and ham, which contain more solid fat, the Association cites.

The earlier the better is the rule for beginning a low calorie, low cholesterol diet that can help all the hearts in the family. The artery blockages that cause heart attack and stroke begins with a bad childhood diet.

HELOISE'S HINTS

Stocking size is adaptable

By HELOISE CRUSE
DEAR HELOISE: Well, I really learned something this weekend that I'm almost too ashamed to write you about. But maybe there are a few other slow thinkers in the crowd who would appreciate this:

In a rush to buy some stockings for my daughter and myself, I decided to take the medium length since they were out of the short size. And just guess what that saleslady told me?

"Honey, if they're too long, just turn the tops under."

Imagine! Why hadn't I been doing that all this time? Don't most of us turn 'em over instead? She said it would give a much smoother line, and believe you me, it most certainly does! Dum Dum

That's a terrific one, gal. And here's another secret... Ever tried wearing your girdle wrongside out? Those little supporter knobs won't leave a bump showing through your straight skirt! Try it and see.

If your girdle has removable supporters, you only need turn those supporters backwards. Works! Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: I found a new use for empty thread spools.

They are dandy for the zippers I remove from old dresses.

I wind my zipper around the spool and secure it with a rubber band.

You can also mark the length on the end of the spool, and fit them neatly into your sewing box or drawer. Bonnie Anderson

DEAR HELOISE: I thought flower lovers would like to know that you can put the little plastic wires from bread wrappers to good use in making stems for dried flowers.

Sometimes, when picking flowers, the stems are broken off short. So while they are

Lunch idea Uses mixture

Brighten lunchtime sandwiches with a new idea or two. Mash with a fork a 12-ounce can of luncheon meat and a ripe banana. Moisten with one-fourth cup mayonnaise blended with one teaspoon lemon juice.

Any of the ground leftover meats or ready-to-serve meats are pepped with one-half cup chopped celery and one teaspoon prepared horseradish to one cup of the ground meat. Moisten with two or more tablespoons of mayonnaise.

If you place two slices of bread under a meat loaf before baking, the pan won't get scorched.

still pliable, just wind them around the wire and they will stand upright in your vase very nicely. Mrs. R.F. Cassidy

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever had a hard time getting clamp-suspenders to stay hooked to thin material, such as little girl's cotton slacks or skirts?

I sew a very small button on the band of the garment so the clamp has something to grab onto. Pat Kelley

DEAR HELOISE: My garbage man had passed me up on occasion, but this time my cans were running over. I called and raised my voice to high heaven. They came promptly.

I was so relieved that I took a felt ink-marker and wrote Thank You in large letters on the lid of the can.

If we can yell at the top of our lungs when they miss us a few times, we can at least say thanks for being on the job most of the time, Mrs. L.M.C.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that you can preserve the small markings on your yardstick (and those markings do wear off if you use the stick a great deal) by putting a coat of clear varnish over the entire length and width of it? Susan

WORLD SERIES

St. Louis over Detroit

Our 'experts' say: 'Sorry, Tigers'

By DAVE HERBST
Press Sports Editor

All ballots are in and... Sorry, Tigers. Maybe next year. This time around, you won't even win your division. Much less the American League. Or much, much less, the World Series.

Our crystal ball gazers have pointed the finger of favorite to the Baltimore Orioles in the Eastern Division of the American League — the division in which, they contend (by consensus), the World Champion Bengals will wind up second.

That isn't to say Den Mother Mayo doesn't have his following around The Press office. He picked up as much first-place support, in fact, as did the Orioles. But a group led by yours truly held little enough regard for the Tigers that the pendulum swung in favor of Baltimore.

The worthy accomplice, Barry Levine, leads the force of devout who foresee a rerun of last season's Detroit-then-Baltimore finish.

The house isn't divided all the way, though. We're going with — believe it or not — Oakland to win the minor league division of the American League. They'll beat out the likes of Seattle, Kansas City and a trio of borderline major-minor clubs—California, Chicago and Minnesota. So do your thing, Blue Moon, Catfish and the rest of you!

Consensus, incidentally, made Oakland and Minnesota co-favorites to win the Western Division.

There was no question in the minds of the gazers about who'll be doing all the shouting in the Eastern Division of the National League. St. Louis' Cardinals, winners of the traditional National League title race the past two years, were chosen to do it once again.

The sports department stuck together in choosing a winner of the NL's Western Division, also — it'll be San Francisco, finally, after those long years of waiting. Consensus, however, made the Giants only co-favorites with Cincinnati's often-frustrated-and-now-not-only — Frank Robinson-less-but-Vada-Pinsonless-Reds.

The consensus prediction was that it'll be a matchup between Baltimore and St. Louis in the World Series, with St. Louis coming out on top.

I'll take Baltimore over the Cards. Obsolete Levine allows his loyalty to carry the Bengals to the World Series. But as stubborn as he may be, last October's performance didn't make him an unqualified believer, and he'll take St. Louis in the Series.

There was unanimity on several points, St. Louis winning the Eastern division of the National League, for instance. And like San Diego finishing at the other end of the National League's Western Division or Ted Williams enjoying an equally-frustrating year in the American League's East.

So that you can have the evidence with which to taunt us if it turns out the crystal ball failed us, we've included our choices.

Pistons nab 6-7 Driscoll In NBA's first round draft

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Pistons, choosing fourth, Monday took Boston College standout Terry Driscoll in the first round of the National Basketball Association draft.

The Pistons choice came after the Milwaukee Bucks made their pick of Lew Alcindor official, and after Phoenix and Seattle had drafted Neal Walk of Florida and Lucius Allen of UCLA.

Detroit's second-round choice was Willie Norwood of Alcorn A & M. The 6-7, 215-pound Driscoll is a strong rebounding forward, whom the Pistons hope will team effectively with 6-11 center Walt Bellamy.

Driscoll set Boston College

rebounding records of 1,071 for a three-year career, 498 for a single season and 31 for one game. His career shooting percentage was 51 per cent, with a total of 1,426 points and an 18.5 average.

He was voted the most valuable player in this year's National Invitational Tournament.

The flip side of the coin for the Phoenix Suns turned out to be Neal Walk of Florida. The surprise in a delayed Easter basket for the Boston Celtics turned out to be Jo Jo White of Kansas.

That's the way it went Monday as the National Basketball Association ran through the first two rounds of its draft of college seniors in fast-break style.

It took the 14 clubs just 22 minutes to select 29 players in the telephone draft session in the offices of Commissioner J. Walter Kennedy. The draft will be completed in New York May 7.

Phoenix, which lost a coin toss to Milwaukee for the right to pick first, chose the 6-foot-10 Walk just moments after Milwaukee had selected Lew Alcindor.

The 6-2 Allen was a teammate of Alcindor's for two seasons before he left UCLA before his senior year.

Baltimore, the regular season winner in the East, picked last in the first round and took Mike Davis of Virginia Union while the Los Angeles Lakers, winners in the West, chose Willie McCarter of Drake and Rick Roberson of Cincinnati.

Los Angeles was awarded an extra first-round pick because of the Rudy LaRusso incident of a few years ago. LaRusso, now with San Francisco but then with the Lakers was involved in a trade between Los Angeles, Baltimore and Detroit but he refused to report to Detroit. Detroit got an extra first-round pick last year.

Hurons lose To Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Eastern Michigan won the battle of getting men on base here Monday. Unfortunately, the Hurons also left most of them there as chance after chance fizzled during a 3-1 loss to the University of Kentucky.

Eastern's record was thus 2-2 going into today's scheduled doubleheader with the University of Tennessee at Knoxville. The Wildcats, which have now won five straight, are 8-9 for the season.

Fifteen Hurons reached base during the frustrating afternoon of baseball under bright skies and 75-degree temperatures. Two of those were caught stealing, one scored and the other 12 were stranded.

Particularly in the late innings did the Hurons see scoring chances slip away. In the seventh a walk and a trio of singles netted only one run before Pete Casteel grounded to short to end the threat.

The sacks were left loaded again in the ninth after a single by Terry Collins and a pair of walks, all with two out, kept the Hurons' hopes alive. Jerry Warkentin, pinch hitting for Casteel, struck out.

Collins' single in the ninth was his third of the day, raising his season average to a hefty .500 (eight for 16).

Last year, when he was a freshman, Collins led Eastern hitters with a .454 average. Kentucky didn't get many aboard — a total of eight — but bunched four of its hits with an error in the sixth for three runs.

The deciding runs scored on a double by Ron Geary, a hit that knocked EMU starter Rich Berryman out of the box.

Coach Ron Oestrike then brought on sophomore left-hander Tom Olms, who set down the first two batters he faced to halt the rally. After surrendering a leadoff double in the seventh, he turned back the last six batters he faced.

Crusaders win Second, 12-9

CHELSEA — A bases-loaded triple by catcher Mickey Pelletier in the second inning powered St. John's to its second straight win of the season, a 12-9 decision over Chelsea yesterday.

The big hit was one of only three safeties in that frame, but the Crusaders came up with six big runs to take a 6-0 lead. The Bulldogs fought back with a single tally in the third and six more in the fourth to capture a short-lived lead.

That never stood up, however, as St. John's, led by Pelletier and pitcher Pat Soraruf, continued to score, finishing with four in the seventh for the victory.

Soraruf and Pelletier each had three hits and the hard-throwing southpaw struck out six and walked four in his seven innings.

Hot line back

LANSING — The Department of Natural Resources' fishing information "hot line" in Lansing is back in service, timed with the pickup in angling interest expected when action opens tomorrow in Michigan on steelhead, salmon, and brown trout in about 75 designated Great Lakes streams.

Call numbers for the popular service line are again 373-0908 (under Area Code 517). Live reports of where the fish are hitting and how they are being caught in the Great Lakes proper and Michigan's coastal streams can be obtained by dialing this special outlet Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., E.S.T.

Wyatt signed By Athletics

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Athletics announced Monday the signing of right-handed pitcher John Wyatt, who earlier this spring was released by the Detroit Tigers.

The former Ypsilanti resident, who will join the club in time for Tuesday's opening game, appeared in 37 games for the Tigers last year, winning two, losing four and posting a 2.76 earned-run average.

Hawks win Playoff

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The Atlanta Hawks, outshot and outrebounced by the young San Diego Rockets, were not outscrambled.

Their 108-106 victory Monday night put the Hawks into the National Basketball Association's Western Division playoff finals with the Los Angeles Lakers.

Atlanta, after beating San Diego 4-2 in their series, meets the Lakers in the first game of the best-of-7 series Wednesday night in Los Angeles.

In the Eastern Division finals, Boston leads the New York 1-0. The Celtics entertain the Knicks Wednesday night.

No games are scheduled tonight.

Life & Leisure: A guide for dedicated fun-lovers

What's at the movies tonight

CHARLY: Sensitive story of a mentally-retarded man given a second chance by a miraculous brain operation, and eventually plunged back into darkness when the new advance proves temporary. An easy candidate for embarrassing baths, the film is saved by dedicated low-key direction and Cliff Robertson's almost loving portrayal of the ill-fated hero. (G) — La Parisen, Michigan

FACES: The story of a marriage in the process of collapse, John Cassavetes' film focuses on a quartet of sad, frustrated people trying desperately to convince themselves that they are having a good time. Painfully and embarrassingly intimate, the film's great strength lies in the fact that the audience continues to watch what they would prefer not to, and comes away with a greater sense of identification than they might wish to feel. — Campus

THE TRIP: Peter Fonda stars in a pioneer attempt to simulate the acid trip. The story line is thin, but the photography and special effects keep it exciting, if not overly compelling. — Ypsi-Ann Drive-in SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL SHERIFF: A Western to end all Westerns... and it probably will, as it methodically reduces all the standard genre clichés to utter hilarity. James Garner plays the "stranger," Walter Brennan, "the vicious outlaw" and Joan Hackett, "the sweet young thing" in a film which is really too witty and sophisticated to claim a 'G' rating—State-Wayne

BUONA SERA, MRS. CAMPBELL: Gina Lollobrigida stars as an Italian temptress who has conned three American bedpartners into support of a child each thinks he has fathered. Careful direction and an excellent cast headed by Phil Silvers, Peter Lawford and Telly Savalas keep it light and funny and mature audiences will find it a pleasant relief from the usual exploited fare. — Willow and Algier's Drive-ins

JOANNA: A very modern movie about a very contemporary girl who's pretty and adventurous and sleeps with a lot of different men because she likes them. There are no moral judgments here, not even any philosophical comments; just a story about people which is charming and happy simply because it doesn't pretend to be anything else, and bold and exciting because real people are. — Fifth Forum

DAYTON'S DEVILS—EVE: One part adventure and one part sex turns two mediocre films into a double-feature with something for everyone... except the guy who really went to the drive-in to see a movie. — University Drive-in

THREE IN THE ATTIC: Light-hearted spoof on feminine tactics in the perpetual battle of the sexes. Yvette Mimieux stars as one of three sullied ladies who avenge themselves on their shared lover by imprisoning him in their dormitory and impressing him into stud service. Not for children or mothers about to send a daughter to college. — Ypsi-Ann Drive-in

IN THE HEAT OF THE NIGHT: Heavyweight champ of 1967, this was one of the first efforts to deal seriously with the issue of racial prejudice. It may seem simplistic to 1969 audiences; but fine performances by Rod Steiger as a bigoted cop and Sidney Poitier as a black detective called in to assist him lend power to the somewhat outdated script. — Willow Drive-in

WHERE WERE YOU WHEN THE LIGHTS WENT OUT? Richard Burton and Clint Eastwood star in this high-powered war story, recent east-coast blackout. In retrospect, this film will probably be regarded as one of the more tragic results of that event. — Algier's Drive-in

ANGEL IN MY POCKET: Andy Griffith plays his guileless homespun self in this tale of a newly-ordained minister whose first post lands him in the middle of a town feud which threatens to bring down the church. It's a well-worn story; but it's funny and human and one of the few films left for family consumption. (G) — Wayside

GONE WITH THE WIND: Clark Gable and Vivian Leigh in a love story as timeless as the film itself. If it's possible that anyone hasn't yet seen it, by all means do. — Martha Washington

WHERE EAGLES DARE: Richard Burton and Clint Eastwood star in this high-powered war story, recent east-coast blackout. In retrospect, this film will probably be regarded as one of the more tragic results of that event. — Algier's Drive-in

HOW TO SAVE A MARRIAGE AND RUIN YOUR LIFE: Dean Martin and Stella Stevens star in this domestic comedy that employs every cliché about men, women and marriage since the three of them got together. Their marriage may be saved but their picture is definitely on the rocks. — Willow Drive-in

Richard Burton stars in a wartime chiller fully worth all of his abilities, "Where Eagles Dare," now at the Quo Vadis and Fox Village Theaters.

THE ILLUSTRATED MAN: Rod Steiger and Claire Bloom take the title roles in this film version of Ray Bradbury's parable of the perpetual wanderer. Director Jack Smight has gone a bit haywire with floating symbols and disjointed time, but the quality of the acting and the original story keeps the film at a first-rate interest level. — Quo Vadis Penthouse II

SMITH: Typical Walt Disney flair makes this modern Western pleasant and entertaining, if not overly provocative. Glenn Ford stars as a rancher who determines to save an Indian boy unjustly accused of murder, while an Indian-hating sheriff tries to push the charge. The film doesn't really say much about the racial situation, but since most movies do so badly anyway, perhaps that is a point in its favor. On a bill with "The Incredible Journey" and "The Big Mouth" — Wayne Drive-in 2001: A SPACE ODYSSEY: Spectacular cinema effects have made Stanley Kubrick's futuristic epic one of the most well-deserved hits of the season. The relative absence of dialogue and narrative only increases the visual magnificence of a film which challenges all the unique possibilities of the film media. — Quo Vadis Penthouse I

THE WORLD PREMIERE of "Baby Love" was accompanied by a 600-strong birthday party for its young star Linda Hayden. Miss Hayden who just turned 16 was legally allowed to view the restricted film for the first time.

Supreme Court requires states To justify district variances

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, tightening down, yesterday required states to justify any variance from exactly equal state legislative and U.S. congressional districts. In a 6-3 decision, the court said states must make "good faith effort to achieve precise mathematical equality" in the apportionment of these districts on the basis of population.

And, the ruling continued, "the state must justify each variance no matter how small." The decision, given by Justice William J. Brennan Jr., disproved the 1967 reapportionment of Missouri's congressional districts. He said "clearly, the population variances among the Missouri congressional districts were not unavoidable." Elly gets Desired GOP post

LANSING (AP) — Elly Peterson, former state GOP chairman who will be sworn in Monday as Republican national vice chairman, said "This is the one job in the administration I really wanted."

"Politics is my thing," she added. "Government really isn't."

Mrs. Peterson will journey to Washington this weekend and attend a White House reception Sunday for retiring National Chairman Ray Bliss. She will be sworn in Monday when the Republican National Committee meets, she said.

65% school buses reported OK

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police report about 65 per cent of Michigan's 9,000 public school buses received a clean bill of health on the department's annual safety check just completed.

The percentage represented about 5,800 buses with no apparent defects.

It took State Police three months to check the buses in Michigan's 534 public school districts.

Among the most frequent defects uncovered were inoperative windshield wipers and washers, lights, exhaust systems and parking brakes.

Other items inspected included glass areas, horns, steering gear, tires, mirrors, reflectors, fuel tanks, defrosters, service and emergency doors, fire extinguishers, flares, bumpers, body condition, heaters, first aid kits, seats and steps.

School districts in Ann Arbor and Pontiac, meanwhile said they have been unable to have potentially defective brake systems replaced on General Motors buses because of parts shortages.

GM mailed out certified letters March 31 telling the bus owners to check with dealers for replacement of brake system seals.

About 475 Michigan school buses were affected by a nationwide GM recall of more than 1.1 million vehicles.

THE STRUGGLE, one of D.W. Griffith's sound-track films will be the featured attraction tonight and tomorrow at Mark's Coffee House. Starring Hal Skelly and Zita Johann, the movie focuses on people in the moment of their greatest temptation and sees them through the struggle of will. Lighter fare will be served on Thursday night with director Douglas Stark's "Written on the Wind," a domestic mix-up par excellence starring Lauren Bacall, Rock Hudson, Robert Stack and Dorothy Malone. If you dig the classic, and informality is your thing, Mark's is definitely the spot you've been looking for. —Mark's Coffee House, 605 E. William, Ann Arbor; shows at 8 and 10 p.m.; admission 75c

Books

A SHARK-INFESTED RICE PUDDING by Sylvia Wright (Doubleday; $4.95). The three stories included in this book are really unconnected except that each dwells on family relationships and the individual problems contained in them. The subject matter may be most appealing to women, but sensitive male readers will be drawn by narrative which becomes almost poetic in the hands of a fine stylist. The three tales are simple: "Mothers and Fathers" concerns an elderly Greek couple who come to American to visit their son and daughter-in-law while the old man is treated — unsuccessfully — for cancer. "Dans le Vrai" focuses on a spinster who contends herself with visits with her sister and she recalls a lost love affair. A similar memory exercise is the basis for the title story in which a woman conjures images of several generations of family living on a new-deserted summer house. The characters are all fully, elo-quently drawn, but what is most remarkable is Miss Wright's capacity for capturing the minutia of time and place through a narrative style reminiscent of Virginia Woolf. She perpetually shifts viewpoint and setting, evoking rather than describing events in the full detail of a camera montage. Her style is difficult and occasionally baffling, but the visual and aural imagery she creates is well worth the reader's effort. The fruit is sweeter for the effort needed to harvest it.

THE GOLD RUSH. Long considered one of the ten best comedy films ever made, the 1925 Chaplin classic has been revamped for a second world premiere at the Henry Ford Museum Theater. Basically unchanged except for the addition of an old-time organ sound track and unobtrusive commentary by WJR's Mike Whorf, the film is set for national distribution following an eight-day Easter engagement at the museum. On a double-bill with the Laurel and Hardy 1930 short, "Hog Wild." — Henry Ford Museum Theater, Greenfield Village, Dearborn; through April 13 with daily performances at 1 and 3 p.m., Sundays at 2 and 4 p.m.; included in standard museum admission of $2 for adults, $1 for children.

PETER PAN: A soaring success in December, the Greenfield Village Players production of the favorite fairytale has been brought back for an Easter week engagement. Fast and colorful, it's a holiday event the whole family can share. — Henry Ford Museum Theater, Greenfield Village, Dearborn; 7:30 p.m. curtain; tickets $2, $1 for children.

MELVINDALE (AP) — Police were looking Monday for a 1968 auto believed to have been the getaway car of an attempted bombing of their headquarters in Melvindale. A homemade chemical bomb did about $200 damage to a police car Sunday night, but police said their station was undamaged.

MSU acting head cites 'improved system'

EAST LANSING (AP) — Acting President Walter Adams confronted dissident young people nose-to-nose Monday, then refused their demands to cancel further recruiting at Michigan State University by Oakland, Calif., police.

"I want to improve the system. I want to reform the system. You want to destroy the system," he told some 100 young people, many members of the militant Students for a Democratic Society, jammed into a narrow corridor outside the recruiting office.

The dissidents — nearly all white — protested what they termed "racism" in the Oakland police department. They cited the shooting death one year ago of Bobby Hutton, a member of the Black Panthers. Yelling "Oakland pigs" and "no more brothers in jail," the dissidents demanded Adams call off the interviews.

"I am not responsible for 35 guys or 100 guys standing in a crowded corridor saying change the system," Adams said. "I will not stand for this kind of mob rule in decision making." Adams, regarded as a liberal and one of the most popular teachers on campus when named acting president to succeed Dr. John Hannah, reportedly was the first MSU chief to meet with protesting students in 27 years.

"If you think you're going to abolish the Oakland police by preventing them from recruiting, you're much more naive than I ever expected," he said. "You don't give a tinker's damn about the blacks here," Adams yelled at one point. "But," he said, pointing to a youth waiting to interview, "as long as I am in charge, this young man is going to have his opportunity to talk with them."

"If this is not acceptable I am deeply sorry—but that's the way it's going to be." The confrontation took place outside the office of MSU placement director Jack Shingleton, where the Oakland representatives were taken after dissidents jammed a hall outside the office they were using previously. Shingleton opened the door to let in Adams and—after a brief shoving match involving protestors and the officials—the acting president and several dissidents made their way into the room.

The student also got in, finished his interview in an adjoining office while Adams talked with protestors, and left. Adams personally escorted a second interviewer through the crowded hall into the office.

New Detroit Inc. study Of church shooting slated

DETROIT (AP)—New Detroit Inc. has promised to investigate charges by a top Republic of New Africa leader that police deliberately shot three of the four persons wounded in the New Bethel Church incident.

Harpsichord Concert set

Daniel R. Eller, associate professor of music at Eastern Michigan University, will present ten Scarlatti sonatas in a harpsichord recital Monday in the Alexander Music Building.

Before coming to Eastern, Mr. Eller had taught at Pomona College, Cornell University, San Francisco State College and the New England Conservatory of Music. He was the regular pianist for the Cornell University Faculty Trio and the accompanist for the San Francisco Opera Association and the San Francisco Ballet company.

His concert Monday which will be held at 5 p.m. in Room 230 of the music building is free and open to the public.

The church shooting broke out after a white policeman was gunned down outside just before midnight March 29.

Police minutes later stormed the church where a meeting of the black separatist group was ending and arrested over 100 persons. Police alleged the officer's assailants had sought refuge in the church.

The deliberate shooting charge was made in a letter from Republic of New Africa first vice president Milton Henry to New Detroit president William T. Patrick Jr.

Henry said none of the wounded had been wearing RNA uniforms — of the alleged killers of policeman Michael Czapski wore. He added in his letter that none were armed nor did they know of the shooting.

Patrick told a Monday news conference he feels Henry's charges are worthy of investigation. He said he is relaying to New Detroit's law committee.

He also announced that New Detroit is offering a $7,500 reward for the Czapski's killer, saying that the money is coming from anonymous sources.

Patrick also said a special telephone has been installed at New Detroit to take calls hopefully volunteering information on the officer's slaying. Information will be relayed immediately to Detroit police investigators.

Flint rejects renewal project

Grosse Pointe Farms turns down housing proposal

Lansing Mayor Max Murnighan lost a re-election bid. Flint voters rejected a major urban renewal project. And Grosse Pointe Farms turned down a fair housing proposal.

These are among highlights in Monday's election in Michigan cities and municipalities in which many issues and incumbents found rough landing.

Gerald W. Graves, Lansing city treasurer since October 1961, unseated Mayor Max E. Murnighan in complete but unofficial returns, 12,484 12,265.

Murnighan, who trailed

Graves in an earlier primary, said it was "too early to tell" if he would demand a recount.

Graves had accused the city administration with misconduct. Elected councilmen were incumbents Lucille Belen and Harold Moore, and newcomers William Brenke and Jack Brenke. City Clerk Theo Fulton was re-elected.

At Flint, voters rejected a $5 million urban renewal bond issue that would have secured $35 million in federal funds along with money from other sources for a total of $62 million. Unofficial returns gathered by radio station WFDF, showed it was downed 17,303-6,589.

If approved, it would have been the first major urban renewal project in Flint. It called for correcting blight conditions, code enforcement, grants and loans to property owners for improvements, clearing property, and developing industrial parks.

Observers said reasons for the defeat may have been a campaign by some persons who felt they would not get enough money for their property and the fact of a disturbance at a Flint school last week in which 19 were arrested.

Flint voters also turned down proposals for a charter revision commission, a charter amendment raising the pay of city commissioners from $10 to $20 per meeting, and for a board of review to study board of supervisors realigning.

In the Detroit suburb of Grosse Pointe Farms, voters rejected an advisory question that would have given the city council a mandate to pass a fair housing ordinance. It lost 2,271-1,596.

The proposal had been endorsed by the Fair Housing Committee, which ran advertisements endorsing it from top citizens of the five neighboring Pointes. Henry Ford II, board chairman of Ford Motor Co., and Joseph L. Hudson Jr., department store magnate and former head of the New Detroit Committee, were among the signed.

The Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association ran counter ads, saying among other things that it was unnecessary because of present state and federal open housing laws were sufficient.

Elected city councilmen at Grosse Pointe Farms were Richard Hudson, Robert Herdgen, Mark Stevens and Nancy Waugaman.

Other municipal Michigan elections included:

Allegan Mayor James Rolfe was re-elected. Robert Clearwater and Mrs. Raymond Stone were named city councilmen. Mrs. Stone becoming the first woman councilman in the city's history.

Republican Richard Lewis defeated Democrat Irving Tucker for Mayor of South Haven, 693-287. Incumbent Mayor Glenn Sperry declined to seek another term. Seven of eight proposed charter amendments, calling for such items as clarifying the mayor's power to vote and giving the council the power to accept other than the lowest qualified bids, were approved. Defeated was a pay raise for city alderman from $200 to $500 yearly and the mayor from $500 to $1,000 a year.

Voters in Holland turned down for the third time in five years a request for a salary increase for the mayor and council members. The proposal was to raise the mayor's salary from $28,000 to $35,000 a year and councilmen to $18,000 to $25,000 a year. Mayor Nelson Bosman was unopposed for another term.

Mayor Frank Hoogland ran unopposed for another term as Zeeland mayor. Chosen Zeeland councilmen were Chris Dejonge and Edward Negelkirk.

Four city commissioners were chosen in Traverse City from a field of eight. Elected as new members of the city commission were Richard Purvis, Carl Huffman, Dr. Ted Cline and incumbent Nick Rhakovich.

In his first bid for public office, insurance agent Norman Engleright unseated Grand Haven Mayor William Creason, 1,609-1,064. William Boonstra was elected to the council and incumbent John Walhout won a second four-year term.

Granville M. Baker was re-elected Flat Rock mayor 562-541, defeating Jamie Higgins, councilman and former Flat Rock village president. Named councilmen were Richard Jones, Kenneth W. Keeton and James R. Houshell.

Mayor Clyde R. Evans was elected to his fourth straight term, at Luna Pier, defeating Joseph Goately, 315-28. Chosen councilmen were Douglas Karner, William Raymond, and John Laderach.

Birmingham voters passed several proposals including bonds to acquire land for a historical park. Named to the commission were David F. Breck, John M. Dorsey Jr., and William B. Saunders.

Mayor Abraham S. Levine was chosen Mount Clemens mayor. Councilmen named were William Wendt, Ralph Barber, and Terrence Monaghan.

Warren voters rejected proposal to increase the mayor's salary from $14,000 to $24,500 and the clerk and city treasurer from $9,500 to $15,000. Mayor Ted Bates won another term. Chosen councilmen were Howard Austin, Ronald Bonkowski, Louis Burd, L. Klimecki, Dennis Dutko, Stephen Jury Jr., Richard Sabaugh, Harold Stilwell and Floyd Underwood.

Fred H. Beck was named mayor in Utica, with council posts going to Henry Schepher, Charles Stone, and Mrs. Helen Schwark.

Among other persons elected mayor in suburban Detroit areas were Kenneth E. Roth of Berkley, John Metelski of Allen Park, Charles E. Palmer of Clawson, John Canfield of Dearborn Heights, Walter Bezz of East Detroit, Matthew Patterson of Grosse Pointe Park, Gordon R. Bryant of Huntington Woods, A. DeMars of Lincoln Park, Damon Sam Daigle of Memphis, Monte R. Gerald of Madison Heights, Herman Staffhorst of New Baltimore, Joseph Forbes of Oak Park, Theodore M. Barr of Pleasant Ridge, John McEwan of River Rouge, James Jones of Riverview, William D. McDonald of Roseville, Norman W. Feder of Southfield, Robert C. Roaume of Southgate, John E. Noel of South Lyon, Clarence J. Hanlon of Trenton, Edward Fedlock of Woodhaven, and William Sullivan of Wyandotte.

SEN. GRIFFIN
... state's top newsmaker

Griffin Named tops For news

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., the man instrumental in blocking Senate confirmation of Associate Justice Abe Fortas as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, has been named Newsmaker of the Year by the Michigan Associated Press Broadcasters Association (MAPBA).

Griffin will receive his award from Gov. William Milliken at the MAPBA Awards Banquet in Lansing April 15.

Griffin was the Senate leader in the filibuster against Fortas' confirmation which forced the eventual withdrawal of the nomination by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

"A freshman Senator, mustering enough support in a Democratic Senate to halt a major nomination by a Democratic president must rank among the year's top news stories," said Philip Nye, president of the MAPBA wire study committee which made the selection.

In addition to the "newsmaker of the year" award to be presented to Griffin, Gov. Milliken also will present awards to Michigan broadcast stations at the annual banquet sponsored by the Associated Press.

The Associated Press, a nonprofit, news disseminating organization owned by its more than 4,200 newspaper and broadcast members, is also sponsoring a news seminar in conjunction with the awards banquet.

The day-long seminar is open to all working newsmen in broadcast stations throughout the state who are members of AP.

Secret meetings Produce little In peace efforts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secret contacts with Communist negotiators reportedly have produced little or no real progress toward ending the Vietnam war despite some recent optimistic reports from U.S. officials.

Some high administration officials say privately they believe that North Vietnam and the Viet Cong still are convinced they will win the war in South Vietnam if they fight on long enough. These authorities conclude that enemy leaders are therefore not yet seriously interested in a compromise settlement.

On the contrary, according to this view, they want to keep public pressure on President Nixon to bring the conflict to a close on their terms.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers told a news conference Monday the presence of enemy negotiators in Paris, taken together with "indirect reports we have received" indicate "some interest in a negotiated" settlement on their part.

"Whether this is being done just to mislead us or not," he said, "there is no way of knowing until we proceed a little further down the road."

In Paris, South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said flatly "The enemy at the present time is not ready for serious talks."

Rogers' comment, suggesting deep uncertainty about Communist intentions, appeared to be in line with word from other informants here that the United States and South Vietnam have encountered hard going in trying to set up regular secret negotiations on the basic issues.

of withdrawal of troops by both sides and a political settlement in South Vietnam.

Rogers struck two optimistic notes Monday at his first regular news conference since he took office in January.

In response to a question on withdrawal of troops, he said "I would certainly hope that there would be some chance of mutual withdrawal of troops this year."

He would not talk about withdrawal of U.S. troops alone, in the absence of similar action by North Vietnam, except to say that "We are considering all possibilities."

On another question Rogers said the Nixon administration does "have a plan which we think is a fair and reasonable one for ending this conflict ... and the President is spending a great deal of time and thought and effort in bringing this war to a peaceful conclusion."

At Sterling plant:

Workers defy UAW

DETROIT (AP) — Striking workers at Chrysler's big stamping plant in suburban Sterling today defied a back-to-work order from their International United Auto Workers Union leaders.

Most of the 1,700 workers on the first shift at the 4,000-man plant showed up at the plant gates but a Chrysler Corp. spokesman estimated that "only about 50" crossed the lines and went into the plant. No violence was reported.

The UAW's International Executive Board took control of the wildcat striking Local 1264 Monday and named Doug Fraser, UAW vice president and director of its Chrysler department, and Ken Morris, a regional UAW director, as administrators of the local.

The strike at the key plant, which manufactures body panels, so far has idled about 30,000 Chrysler employees in the U.S. and Canada. A Chrysler spokesman said 10,000 more might be sent home Wednesday at the Warren truck works and two New Jersey engine plants if the strike continues.

This appeared likely, as Charles Ferguson, a self-described picket leader, said "We're stronger now than ever before and we're not going back."

The Sterling employees were ordered back to work after the UAW's International Board was unable to persuade leaders of the local to return their members on their own initiative.

Fraser said "we had no choice" in making the unusual takeover. Chrysler repeatedly has said that no negotiations can take place until the men are returned to work.

Local officials said the walkout last Wednesday followed the imposition of an "unsafe" work assignment by Chrysler.

Calling the strike "illegal," and "unconstitutional," Fraser told a news conference it "is having a tragic impact on the Chrysler workers." It was only the second time in the past two years that the UAW has put a striking local under administratorship. The last was in Mansfield, Ohio, at a General Motors plant.

Gene Calo, financial secretary-treasurer of Local 1264, said Monday he "would think" the workers will honor the back-to-work demand. "They know they're going to have to go back, whether today, tomorrow or the next day."

"Before the end of the week there will be 60,000 unemployed unless this strike ceases," Fraser said.

Ex-Detroit man To be appointed

DETROIT (AP) — Robert D. Knox, who resigned a month ago as Detroit's housing director, is expected to be named director of Cleveland's housing program, the Cleveland Plain Dealer reports.

Knox' wife, Patti, is vice chairman of the Michigan Democratic Party. A move to Cleveland may create a vacancy in the Michigan post.

Knox had been housing director in Detroit for seven years. The Plain Dealer said he would receive $35,000 annually in Cleveland, a $10,000 increase over his Detroit salary.

Says Pentagon:

Soviet flights Of little concern

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet bomber flights to the fringe of North America have become so routine in recent months that U.S. fighters aren't always sent to intercept them, according to Pentagon sources.

Over the last 15 months, these sources say, there have been about three dozen incidents of Soviet planes flying near continental North America, usually Alaska or Canada.

However, the Soviets have been careful to turn back before actually flying over U.S. or Canadian territory, the sources said.

While continental defense officials occasionally may decide not to scramble interceptors, the Soviet bombers are always monitored on radar from the time they get within a few hundred miles of the North American coastline until they leave.

Only two or three of the Soviet missions have been disclosed officially by the Pentagon, which indicates the low key attitude the U.S. government is taking.

The most recent Soviet flight, sources report, occurred April 1 when eight to 10 Tu16 Badgers came within 65 miles of Northwest Alaska.

The Alaska Air Command scrambled F102 interceptors, but no nose-to-nose confrontation was necessary.

The Badger is a twin turbo jet aircraft roughly comparable to the old American B47 and capable of speeds up to 580 mph.

In addition, there were more than 25 other similar incidents in 1968 not only off Alaska but near Newfoundland, Labrador, Iceland, and around the Aleutian Island chain in the Pacific.

Furthermore, the United States could hardly protest that the flights are provocative. Strategic Air Command training missions send nuclear-capable B52s quite regularly into Arctic regions near Soviet territory.

Sources believe the Soviets have three reasons for conducting what appears to be a regular program of flights toward the United States:

—They want to keep a constant check on how long it takes U.S. radar to detect incoming planes and scramble fighters to intercept them.

—The flights provide Soviet air crews with training made highly realistic when U.S. fighters meet them.

—The Soviets collect various intelligence information from the missions. Even without flying over U.S. territory, they can take long range photographs, test radar detection systems and maintain data on American radio frequencies.

Petula not demanding:

Never-to-be-seen Smothers show Amuses press

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Petula Clark has a big, professional voice and manner that amuses, surprisingly, her Mary Pickford looks and happy, ingenuitè manner.

In an NBC special Monday night, she was surrounded by attractive people including Andy Williams and Sasha Distel, provided with some stunning clothes to wear and given pleasant and largely familiar songs to sing. There was nothing really wrong with "Portrait of Petula," but the show somehow never really got off the ground, never really demanded the attention of the viewer.

The show probably would have been more impressive a couple of seasons back since it was a nice, respectable, bland hour of tuneless relaxation. But we have become accustomed to more—a point of view, a sharp quality, and the pepper and salt was as much missed as it would have been in a soup or a stew.

Which brings us to the most recent program of those spicy Smothers Brothers—the program that was pulled out of the CBS lineup Sunday night after their CBS contract had been terminated abruptly.

There was a press conference in New York Monday at which Tom Smothers amplified at great length his attitudes toward the right of free expression and his objection to censorship. Eventually, a tape of the canceled show was played for the assembled press. As it turned out, it was one of the brightest, most amusing programs of the series—yet it took no particular genius to see why it made CBS executives nervous.

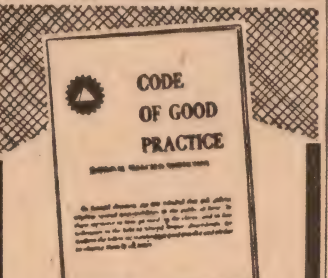

David Steinberg, the comedy monologist who starred in a controversial sketch about Jonah and the whale is a clever, funny fellow. His sketch had Jonah swallowed by a giant guppy instead of a whale. It was amusing all right, but unless you were in the right mood, the Biblical sketch could have carried a certain shock value, particularly on Easter.

There was also a continuing gag between Tom Smothers and Dan Rowan, a guest star, which would have been impossible to edit out. It had them presenting "Laugh-in's" Flying Fiddle Finger of Fate award to Sen. John Pastore of Rhode Island, a sharp critic of TV violence. It was funny but it might have been offensive to a senator interested in television affairs and without much of a show business background. The production numbers, particularly one with Nancy Wilson and the windup one with the dancers, were especially imaginative. It seems a shame that the public will never, in all probability, see the show and make individual judgments.

Meanwhile, the termination of the "Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" after two more shows may find the network with a summer replacement hole to fill on short notice. But at least it is all set for a fill-in for the "Carol Burnett Show." Recording star Jimmie Rodgers will headline a summer series starting June 16, backed up by Burnett show regular Vicki Lawrence and Lyle Waggoner, with Carol's husband, Joe Hamilton, as executive producer.

"Let's hope it works!"

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Ypsilanti PRESS Readers: Special INTRODUCTORY OFFER brings you as much as $10,400.00 EXTRA CASH WHENEVER YOU GO TO THE HOSPITAL

—Only 25¢ covers your entire family for the first month

- ★ Pays you extra cash at the rate of $100.00 a week for as long as 2 full years...for each hospital stay
- ★ Guaranteed renewable for life. At last—a hospital plan that guarantees never to cancel your protection no matter how old you get or how many claims you make

- ★ Pays all cash direct to you (not to the doctor or hospital)
- ★ Pays in addition to any other companies' coverage you have—including Medicare
- ★ No age limit—no medical examination required
- ★ No salesman will call

ACT NOW—YOUR ENROLLMENT-APPLICATION MUST BE MAILED BY MIDNIGHT SAT., APRIL 26, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

One out of two families will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you—or some beloved member of your family tomorrow...next week...next month. Sad to say, very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have doubled in just a few short years. They are expected to double again in the few years ahead.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly, but necessary, X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? What would you do if your pay check stopped, but living expenses kept on going the same as ever? The same rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop.

What is the average breadwinner to do? We believe we have the answer in the famous Presidential Extra Cash Hospital Plan that.

... Pays you $100.00-a-week tax-free cash whenever you are hospitalized.

What a blessing it is when you know you have an extra $100.00 cash coming in every week—beginning the very first day you enter the hospital.

Now, Presidential's economy plan enables you to enjoy this protection at once. Because it will NOT cost you $20.00. It will NOT cost you $10.00—or even $5.00. Your special low price is just 25¢ for the first month's coverage for your entire family. Then continue at regular low Presidential rates.

The added protection you NEED!

All benefits of this Presidential $100.00-A-WEEK Hospital Plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your insurance with any other company! Spend the money as you see fit—for hospital or doctor bills, mortgage payments—or any necessary but costly extras not fully covered by usual hospital policies.

Everything costs more these days (need we tell you?) and hospital care is certainly no exception! While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why Presidential developed low-cost Extra Cash protection that helps you pay hospital costs or other expenses!

You get your $100.00 per week—TAX FREE—from your first day in the hospital, and as long as you are confined there, even for 2 years, if necessary. And, when you and your insured spouse are hospitalized at the same time for an accidental injury, Presidential pays out an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE CASH BENEFIT. You receive not $100.00, but $200.00 a week. Your spouse receives not $100.00, but $200.00 a week. That's $400.00 in all, in cash payments to you every week while you both remain in the hospital...even for as long as 2 whole years!

For older folks—greater protection than you ever would have thought possible!

Right now, would advancing age prevent you from getting hospital insurance, or income protection with another company? Or if you could get a policy elsewhere, would you have to

- PAYS up to $10,400.00 CASH for each accident or illness, starting the very first day in the hospital.
- PAYS up to $10,010.00 CASH if you're 65 or over—at the rate of $700.00 A WEEK for first 13 weeks, and a full $100.00 weekly while you remain in the hospital thereafter, (for 91 more weeks if necessary)...in addition to whatever benefits you receive from Medicare.
- PAYS up to $41,600.00 CASH when both husband and wife are hospitalized at same time for accidental injury, for as long as both remain in the hospital—at the rate of $400.00 A WEEK.
- PAYS up to $2,000.00 CASH for complete accidental loss of limbs or eyesight.
- PAYS $100.00-A-WEEK CASH for each pregnancy requiring a hospital stay, when both husband and wife are insured for the entire pregnancy and have Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits.
- PAYS up to $6,240.00 at the rate of $60.00 A WEEK when a child goes to the hospital for any accident or illness (when Coverage for Children has been added to the basic plan).
- NO age limit—no medical examination required—no salesman will call.

IF YOU ARE 65 OR OVER YOU WILL COLLECT UP TO $10,010.00 CASH IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE BENEFITS

Why are smart folks over 65 now hastening to protect themselves with the Presidential Extra Cash Plan in addition to what Medicare will do for them?

Even though Medicare is a great boon to folks over 65, it will not, of course, pay all the bills that quickly pile up as a result of illness or accident.

Regardless of your age, you still need additional health protection.

We have designed this plan as the important addition to whatever is paid by Medicare—or health insurance you may have in any other companies. Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you (not to the doctor or hospital), to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most. Use the tax-free cash any way you see fit. And you will be glad to know the checks will be big ones! In addition to what is paid by Medicare, Presidential pays you $70.00 a week for first 13 weeks, and a full $100.00 weekly while hospitalized thereafter...for an additional 91 weeks, if necessary! You can receive as much as $10,010.00 for each new illness or injury when hospitalized!

pay a big premium for it? Your "life saver" could be this wonderful Presidential Extra Cash Plan—because Presidential welcomes folks of all ages into its Plan. Even if you're 65 or over, even if you're OVER 100—when you go to the hospital you collect $70.00 a week for 13 weeks and a full $100.00 weekly while you remain in the hospital afterwards...even for as long as 2 years!

We can never cancel your policy!

And you can count on Presidential's wonderful protection no matter how old you get or how many times you collect from us. It is written into your policy that we cannot cancel your protection after you've made a lot of claims, or become old—or both. It is GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE!

And that's not all. Suppose you have a growing family—this special Presidential Plan (HP 35L-868)...

... Pays you $100.00-a-week cash maternity benefits!

Ordinary hospital insurance may take care of part of your expenses when you go to the hospital to have a baby. But what policy can you think of that gives you cash to help buy all the things you need for the new baby? Now, if both husband and wife are insured for the entire pregnancy and have added Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits, you get extra cash to use any way you want. If a pregnancy, childbirth or even miscarriage puts you in the hospital for one day, five days, 10 days—as long as necessary—you get $100.00 a week for every day of your confinement, up to 2 years if necessary!

All these added cash benefits.

Yes, in addition to $100.00 a week for hospitalization or $100.00 a week maternity benefits...you get all this:

Added cash benefits: Up to $2,000.00 cash for accidental loss of limbs or eyesight, when the loss occurs anytime within 90 days of the accident. The loss of a limb or eyesight is a terrible thing. Nothing can replace the loss, but a check for $1,000.00 or $2,000.00 brings peace of mind during the period of adjustment.

Added cash benefits: Choose Coverage for Children (with or without Maternity Benefits) and all your dependent, unmarried children from ages one month through 18 years will be covered, too!

Presidential pays up to $6,240.00, at the rate of $60.00 a week, when your youngster is hospitalized...for tonsillitis, appendicitis or any other illness or injury. Yes, you will receive $60.00 a week cash, week after week while the child is in the hospital, even for as many as 104 weeks!

We pay your premiums when you are not able.

As a special consideration to you, if you—the person to whom the basic policy is issued—are hospitalized just 8 weeks or more, all premiums for you and all Covered Members that come due while you are still in the hospital after this period will be paid by Presidential. And your protection continues as if you were paying the premiums yourself! Then if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 180 days, Presidential will again PAY ANY PREMIUMS WHILE YOU ARE IN THE HOSPITAL—TO A MAXIMUM OF 2 YEARS—for the total confinement! This means you pay no premiums, yet your full protection remains in force—you collect a maximum of $10,400.00 for the confinement!

THIS LIMITED ENROLLMENT OFFER ENDS SOON

Only 25¢ for First Month—Money-Back Guarantee.

You can now have your first month's protection for your entire family for only twenty-five cents! But you must act immediately. Your request for this wonderful Extra Cash Hospital Plan must be mailed on the convenient Enrollment-Application NOT LATER THAN MIDNIGHT of the date shown.

This midnight expiration hour cannot be extended. If your enrollment form is mailed later, it cannot be accepted.

These are the ONLY exclusions!

Your Presidential policy covers every conceivable kind of sickness or accident except conditions caused by war or any act of war; any mental disease or disorder; where care is in a U.S. Government hospital; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy...during the first 2 years only.

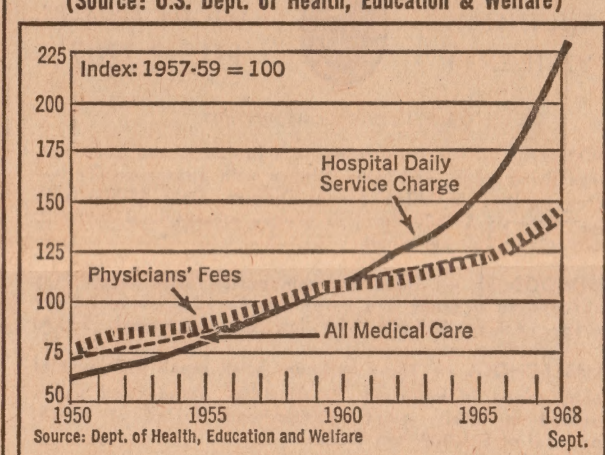

This last item is a real help if you already have a health problem. If you are sick before you take out this policy, you will even be covered for that condition after the policy has been in effect for 2 years. Meanwhile, of course, every new condition is covered immediately!

How can 25¢ buy so much?

You can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay the regular rates. If you wish, But Presidential can now provide you and your entire family with tax-free Extra Cash Protection for just 25¢ the first month. Only because we enroll a large number of people at one time—direct by mail! This highly efficient "Mass Enrollment" method cuts costs to the bone—and the savings are passed on to you!

Medical Costs Skyrocketing!

(Source: U.S. Dept. of Health, Education & Welfare)

Govt. figures reveal your present health protection...may no longer protect you against today's rising medical costs! Don't leave your loved ones defenseless! Act at once to add coverage that provides to a maximum of $10,400.00 health protection for only 25¢ for the first month for entire family.

Make your decision carefully.

Think how costly a hospital confinement will be. Imagine paying for those indispensable doctor, surgical and nursing services that are not covered by your present insurance.

Would you be able to afford the quiet and privacy of a private room and a private nurse, should you so desire? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones? Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? Who would pay your bills that keep on coming in at home? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet such expenses. And no one knows whose turn it will be next.

Why you must act before the date shown on your Enrollment-Application—just a few days from today. Why do we give you so little time to apply for your insurance policy—only a few days? Because we must receive your Enrollment-Application the same time as all the others in order to pass on to you the savings that come from processing many policies at one time.

We mail the policy as soon as we receive your enrollment form. When the policy arrives, examine it in the privacy of your own home. Take all the time you need. It's a very short document, and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover there is NO FINE PRINT. Then—show it, if you wish, to someone you trust. Perhaps your lawyer, accountant, or doctor. Better still—show it to your own insurance man...even though he may very well be working for another company! If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests in mind. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere—at any price!

Money-back guarantee—in case you change your mind.

Even after you mail your Enrollment-Application below...even after you examine the policy in your own home and talk it over with anyone you wish...even after all this you are still free to return the policy within 15 days and your quarter will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever.

Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind—you'll be protected by $100.00-A-WEEK extra cash benefits just as if you had already said "yes." That's right, you will be covered all this time for any accident or illness which puts you in the hospital, even if you finally decide to return the policy.

However, after you've seen the policy for yourself, you will surely agree that this is a tremendous value and you'll want to continue this $100.00-A-WEEK extra cash protection.

HERE ARE THE WONDERFUL LOW RATES

The following rate chart shows how little it costs after the first month to cover yourself, your spouse, and any adult dependents. Each person must be 16 years old or over, and pays (per person) the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium
16-44	only $3.45
45-49	only $3.95
50-54	only $4.45
55-59	only $4.95
60-69	only $5.95
70-74	only $6.95
75 and over	only $8.95

Only $2 more covers all your dependent, unmarried children.

...from the ages of one month through 18 years. And then, if you wish, just add $1 more to that, and you're covered for maternity benefits, too! Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost!

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next! Once you have enrolled in this Presidential plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

THESE 19 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tell you how Presidential's EXTRA CASH HOSPITAL PLAN gives you the protection you need—at amazingly low cost!

- How much will my policy pay me when I go to the hospital? $100.00 per week—to the full maximum of $10,400.00 cash. (If you're over 65, you collect to a maximum of $10,010.00 cash benefits on top of any Medicare benefits. $70.00 a week for first 13 weeks, and $100.00 weekly while you remain continuously hospitalized afterwards, for a maximum of 91 additional weeks. You collect cash not just for yourself, but for all covered members of your family when they are hospitalized! And you collect cash even if you're in the hospital for only one day!)
- When do I collect $2,000.00 extra cash for accidents? We pay you $1,000.00 extra cash for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye, and $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes—even if the loss occurs as long as 3 months after the accident.
- What if I am hospitalized by the same illness—again? You still collect your $100.00-a-week extra cash to the full maximum of $10,400.00. You need only to have resumed full normal activities for just 180 days—then if you are hospitalized for the same illness you begin to collect all over again.
- If I receive more money than my total medical bills—do I keep the "extra cash"? You certainly do! We always pay you the full $100.00 a week—all the way to the maximum of $10,400.00 cash. And even if your bills add up to just part of that, we still pay you the balance every dollar of the extra cash—tax-free! That's why this policy's called an extra cash plan. It's perfectly possible under this plan for you to come out of the hospital with extra dollars you can use for bills, rent, or anything else. And if you already have some health or hospital insurance—all the better for you. Because we pay you anyway, on top of what they pay you! On top of Blue Cross, Major Medical, Workmen's Compensation, or whatever insurance policies you have with other companies!
- Do you pay me cash even for my children, too? And...for my "future" children? You collect $50.00-a-week cash anytime your child goes to the hospital, when Coverage for Children is added to basic plan. A maximum of $6,240.00 each time any dependent, unmarried child (ages 1 month through 18 years old) is in the hospital for sickness or injury. And if you have a growing family—as soon as your newborn child's one month old, he too is covered—automatically...at no additional cost to you.
- Will you pay me $100.00-a-week cash—even for Pregnancy? Yes! Many health plans don't cover pregnancy. But we do, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits are added to the basic plan. You collect $100.00-a-week cash for pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents have to be enrolled in this plan for entire pregnancy period.)
- Are there times I might collect as much as $2,800.00...as much as $41,600.00? There are! Remember, we pay cash not just for you, but for every covered member of your family. So if you or your spouse are hospitalized more than once...or even both of you more than once...or if a child gets sick or has an accident—you could end up collecting $2,800.00 or more! And that's not the whole story. Presidential gives policyowners an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT. If you and your covered spouse are both in an accident and go to the hospital at the same time...Presidential pays you $400.00-a-week tax free cash. This amount is paid for as long as both of you remain in the hospital. Even for 2 years! We receive up to a maximum of $41,600.00—to pay for doctor and hospital bills and other expenses resulting from one accident alone! We hope illnesses and accidents don't strike your home—but should something happen, isn't it reassuring to know you're so well protected?
- Can I spend my cash benefits any way I please? Yes! Spend the money any way you choose. Use it to pay for rent, food, clothing. Or put it in the bank to repay a loan. Or use it during your hospitalization. All cash comes straight to you (not to doctor or hospital unless you request it) so you alone decide how it is to be spent!
- Must I pay taxes on the money you send me? Certainly NOT! Every dollar we send you is 100% tax-free.
- Am I ever allowed to stop paying premiums during a long stay in the hospital—yet still remain fully covered? Yes, you are! All premiums that come due after you—the person to whom the basic policy is issued—are added to the hospital just 8 weeks or more...do not have to be paid! Yes, even if you're in for months, a year, or longer! We pay all premiums for you, and for all covered members of your family, too, while you remain hospitalized. You aren't expected to pay us back either.
- How can you give me so much—for so little? Because you pay your policy directly from the company. You don't deal through middlemen. You eliminate costly processing charges and "red tape" that are included in most other insurance. That's the reason why Presidential can provide you with exceptional high-savings health insurance protection, including a full month's coverage for your family for only 25¢!
- How do I go about submitting a claim? We invite you to contact CASH BENEFITS HEADQUARTERS direct. Whether you want to submit a claim, or just ask us a question, don't hesitate to contact us. As a Presidential policyowner, you are entitled to prompt, courteous and direct attention at all times...and you will get it.
- Because Presidential costs less...do I get less protection? Absolutely not. You get more! $100.00 weekly cash payments for a maximum of 2 years for each hospital stay. And that goes for all covered members of your family. Yet all you pay to get this policy in force for one month is...25¢. And if you want, continue this protection afterwards at the regular low Presidential rate! That's why we urge you—for your own satisfaction—to compare these big cash benefits with any comparable policy issued by any other insurance company...anywhere.
- Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my policy cover? Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your policy covers everything except conditions caused by (a) war or act of war; (b) mental disease or disorder; (c) where care is in a U.S. Government hospital; (d) pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and (e) any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for only two years. Everything else is definitely covered.
- Will you cancel my policy if I make too many claims? Or because of age? No—positively not! Only you can cancel. The company cannot—no matter how many claims you have...how old you get or for any other reason whatsoever. A GUARANTEED-RENEWABLE-FOR-LIFE clause has been written into your policy.
- If I'm hospitalized less than a week—do you still pay in full? Yes! We pay you every day you're in the hospital. There's no "waiting period" before you start collecting.
- What are the requirements to enroll in this Extra Cash Hospital Plan? You must not have been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance due to reasons of health; and, to qualify during this enrollment period, you must enroll before midnight of the date shown in the Enrollment-Application.
- Besides saving money—are there any other advantages of joining Presidential during the enrollment period? Yes. A very important one is that you don't need to complete a regular application—just the brief enrollment form in the corner of this page. Also, during this enrollment period there are no extra requirements for eligibility, and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy!
- How do I enroll? Fill out the brief Enrollment-Application and mail it with just 25¢ for the first month's protection for your entire family. Mail to: The Presidential Life Insurance Company of America, Direct Mail Division, 11401 Roosevelt Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa. 19154.

Get your Enrollment-Application into the mail today—because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today—before anything unexpected happens.
